Ike, Adlai Firing Point Blank

President Continues Jabs At Stevenson's Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's campaign foray into Kentucky and Ohio pointed up how he now is firing back at Adlai Stevenson despite a September assertion he would leave the replies to other Republicans.

In a nationwide television-radio address Monday night at Lexington, Ky., and in a speech earlier in the day at Cleveland, Eisenhower replied to his Democratic opponent on a good many points although he never once mentioned Stevenson by name.

The closest Eisenhower came to naming Stevenson was to allude to the Democratic nominee as an "apparently confused candidate" on the issue of federal aid for education.

Eisenhower envisioned 70 million jobs "at good wages" for Americans if he is reelected. He reported September figures showing 66,100,000 persons at work.

He prefaced his jabs by saying "political ortaory . . . at its most reckless has plunged to the wild extremes of charging this administration with such fabulous failings as not guarding the peace and not caring for the welfare of any humble citizen or any needy family in our land."

Then he added:

• • •

"WE ALL KNOW that there are people who suffer from living in a world of words and phrases for so long that they can no longer recognize action when they see it.

"And, when it comes to a really critical matter like political leadership, we recall a fact that all of us have seen in our own daily lives: The longest lectures almost always come from t'ose with the least experience."

At a September news conference, Eisenhower was asked whether he would reply to criticism by the Democrats.

Eisenhower replied he was going to answer no criticism, that he would leave that to others.

But only a few days later the President hit back at Stevenson's suggestion it might b possible to end the draft in the foreseeable future under circumstances consistent with national security.

Eisenhower also poke out against the Stevenson proposal contemplating an end to hydrogen bomb tests, saying it is not feasible at this time.

In his Sept. 25 farm address at Peoria, Ill., Eisenhower swatted at Stevenson's agriculture program. In Lexington and Cleveland Monday the President loosed fresh salvos at his opponent. Eisenhower talked of an "apparently confused candidate" who, the President said, supported a school aid bill "that we (the Republicans) posed and that his party defeated."

In addition to hitting the Democratic lawmakers on federal aid for education, which he said they killed in the House, the President contended the opposition party stood in the way of action on:

1. Financial and technical aid to areas suffering chronic local unemployment.
2. Extension of the minimum wage law to more persons.
3. Grants to states to expand and strengthen occupational safety programs.

Dem Challenges GOP Chief To Lead Ban on Bomb Tests

TEANECK, N. J. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson challenged President Eisenhower today to "take the leadership" in a move to ban hydrogen bomb tests and suggested Russia is willing to go along.

Renewing his campaign call for an end to testing of large-scale nuclear weapons, the Democratic presidential nominee declared:

"The renunciation of such tests is a step which I think the great powers are now willing to take, if there is leadership in this direction. It is a step that can be safely taken, for no one can explode a hydrogen bomb in secret, and each would know whether the others were acting in good faith. It would be a step along a new path toward peace."

Since only the United States, Britain and Russia are known to possess nuclear weapons, Stevenson obviously included Russia when he said he thinks "the great powers" are willing to suspend H-bomb tests.

• • •

STEVENSON'S assertion that a hydrogen bomb cannot be exploded "in secret" apparently was a reply to Eisenhower's Sept. 19 dismissal of his proposals as a one-sided "theatrical national gesture" in the absence of enforceable international agreements.

Stevenson, who accused the Eisenhower administration Monday night of failing to provide leadership in the field of education, renewed his proposal for suspension of big scale nuclear tests in a speech prepared for an audience at Dickinson University.

In his prepared speech, Stevenson expressed regret that the Eisenhower administration, as he put it, "has not pressed forward along this path to peace as so many have urged — Roman Catholic and Protestant religious leaders, distinguished scientists, prominent educators, yes, and serious politicians!"

Stevenson said also that the administration "seems to have ignored what appears to be an increasing desire to close the gap between East and West on such subjects as mutual inspection and limitation of armed forces."

He said it is because he sees the building of a peaceful world as an "organic process" that he attaches "so much importance to the halting of large-scale nuclear tests by the great powers."

"Surely," Stevenson continued, "there must be sufficient vision to save the human race from contaminating its own air, from filling the upper atmosphere with malign elements which may have incalculable effects on humanity."

Stevenson arranged a visit to Dickinson to view a world arms control center set up to stimulate thinking about peace.

He said the beginning of practical thought about peace "is the complete conviction that war is no longer a practical means of adjusting differences between nations."

Mine Union Opens Parley In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — The United Mine Workers of America open their 42nd constitutional convention here today amid reports that a contract with bituminous coal operators has been agreed upon.

The meeting appears destined to be a peaceful one and no signs of internal disputes have cropped up in pre-convention planning.

John L. Lewis, longtime UMW president, declined to comment Monday on the possibility of a contract already being agreed upon with the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn.

But in Charleston, W. Va., an operators' official was quoted as saying the agreement includes:

A $1.20 per day raise, starting Oct. 1, plus 80 cents starting April 1. Miners' basic wage now is $20.25 daily.

Two more vacation days per year.

An additional $40 vacation pay each year.

Three additional holidays per year—the days before Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years.

The first major item on today's program is the report of the union's international officers.

Reports indicate the convention may see debate over "wildcat" strikes in the coal fields of northern West Virginia.

UMW chief Lewis told a news conference Monday that the union had put $3.9 million of its $130 million welfare fund into common stocks, some of it in power firms, which are big coal customers.

Brothers Handed Jail Sentence in Archbold Bank Case

TOLEDO (AP)—Two brothers convicted of aiding and abetting a fraud on the People's Bank of Archbold were sentenced today by Federal Judge Frank Kloebe.

Maurice King, 33, of Archbold, was sentenced to five years in prison. His brother Emerson, 38, of Wauseon, was sentenced to three years.

The former cashier of the bank, Chester H. Miller, 37, who pleaded guilty to charges of making false entries on the bank's books, was put on two years probation.

The case involved transactions on exports of road machinery by the King Road Machinery Co. of Archbold, a firm operated by the King brothers. The judge said Miller did not gain a penny out of the transaction and had cooperated with the authorities in the case.

They're still talking about the five sets of twins born in Memorial Hospital here in just a little more than a month. Not since the hospital was opened six years ago last May, have so many twins been born in so short a time.

Of the five sets, four were boys and only one girls. The biggest weighed 6 pounds 8 ounces and the smallest 3 pounds 7 ounces. By odd coincidence, the first two sets of boys were given the same first names, Ronald and Donald.

The first, Ronald A. and Donald B. Beedy, arrived Aug. 17. Ronald, 5 pounds, 7 ounces was born at 3:25 a. m. and Donald, 6 pounds 8 ounces, at 4:08, the biggest of the ten. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Beedy, 524 Fifth St.

Twelve days later, Donald Thomas and Ronald David, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morrow of New Holland. Donald was born at 2:32 a. m. Aug. 29 and Ronald, just six minutes later, at 2:38 a. m. They were identical in weight, 4 pounds and 13 ounces each. Their father is employed at Armco here.

The third set arrived on Sept. 5 at 9:07 and 9:09 a. m., the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickelsimer, Route 2, Mt. Sterling. Larry Gene, the first to arrive, weighed 4 pounds 8½ ounces and Barry Dean 4 pounds 13 ounces.

The first, and only, set of girls was born Sept. 15. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fehring Jr., of Hillsboro are the proud parents. Mary Kim Ann, 5 pounds 7 ounces, was born at 12:33 p. m. and Mary Ann, 5 pounds 10 ounces was born at 1:09 p. m.

The last of the five sets was born Sept. 24 to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Upperman, Route 1, Mt. Sterling. Richard Lee, 3 pounds 7 ounces, arrived at 5:52 a. m. and Roger Dee, 4 pounds 5 ounces, at 5:55 a. m.

Cincy Woman Still Hunting For Her Missing Collie Pup

CINCINNATI (AP)—A determined Ohio woman has made Road Forks, N. M., a tiny crossroads village, the center of a search she says she'll never give up until she finds a missing friend.

She is looking for her dog.

The woman is Dorothy Lauck, a 44-year-old teletype operator at the Fernald Atomic Energy Plant near her home in Cincinnati.

In the last nine weeks her name and face have become familiar to people living in the dry rugged country between Lordsburg, in southwest New Mexico, and Willcox, across the border in Arizona.

In that stretch of 78 miles, her dog Mickey was lost.

Miss Lauck was returning from vacation last July 27, driving east at night on Rt. 86. She left Willcox after a rainstorm passed and opened the left rear window so the dog could poke his head out.

When she reached Lordsburg, Mickey was missing.

In the next few days she covered hundreds of miles in the two states, much of it on foot, probing gullies that a dog might crawl in to in this hot, hard country.

• • •

SHE TOOK HER accumulated leave time and widened the search to the north and south, asking more people and advertising in some papers. Her sister came down from Cincinnati to help. Miss Lauck got some more days off without pay.

But the only trace of Mickey was at Road Forks.

The night crew at the traffic station there remembers the small collie that limped inside on the morning of July 28 and hid under a desk.

Next day, a boy from a restaurant gave the collie some food and the dog spent part of the day in the cool of a pool of water nearby. After that, he disappeared.

Finally, Miss Lauck had to come back to work.

In addition to the 8,000 miles she searched, she has covered the sparsely-settled area with handbills. Radio stations broadcast descriptions of the dog.

Miss Lauck has written hundreds of letters, to organizations and firms like communications companies whose linemen might be in the area or truck firms who pass through.

"I spent every cent I had, and I borrowed more besides," she said.

Would she take as replacement a pup of the same breed?

"I don't think I would," she said, "for the simple reason that I'm positive I'll get my dog back."

Employment Drops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that the number of Americans holding jobs dropped by 681,000 to a total of 66,071,000 in September.

Paul Herbert Rebuffed by Toll Road Chief

Showdown Due Today In Accusation over '$35,000 Payoff'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul M. Herbert, who claims that a member of the Ohio Turnpike Commission received $35,000 from a firm which did $350,000 worth of business with the commission, was denied access to commission records today.

Herbert, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, informed Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy Monday that he would appear before the commissioners at 2 p. m. today at suburban Berea for a face-to-face showdown over his charges.

He asked that Shocknessy instruct the official in charge of records at Berea to permit him to see certain records of the turnpike at 11 a. m. today.

Shocknessy said the request was refused because the regular monthly meeting of the commission would be in session at that time and the group could not be bothered about the records during a meeting.

The chairman said Herbert could see the records at another time, but he had not received any further request from him.

• • •

SHOCKNESSY said Herbert was told in a letter last Wednesday that the commission meeting was at 10 a. m. and not 2 p. m.

The commission met at its regular time for routine business this morning, then recessed until afternoon.

Herbert at first declined to appear before the commission to back up his charges, as demanded by Shocknessy, but changed his mind Monday.

In his telegram to the commission chairman, Herbert said he would need a half hour without interruption "to present facts."

"He will not get one-half hour or one-half minute to say anything until he has first complied with the terms of the invitation," Shocknessy said today.

He said terms of the invitation were (1) to explain who was paid $350,000 and thereafter employed a member of the commission and (2) who got the $35,000.

"The first thing he has to do is prove what he charges," Shocknessy said. "In the absence of so proving, he will not be heard."

Freak Accident Kills Farmer, 25

CIRCLEVILLE (AP)—David Dowler, 25, was electrocuted on his farm late Monday as he was trying to shake a pair of kittens out of a long irrigation pipe.

As he raised the pipe to shake out the kittens, the pipe touched a high tension wire.

His mother, Mrs. John Dowler, who stood at the foot of the pipe as her son raised it, was burned and suffered severe shock. The kittens apparently escaped safely.

Ex-Convict Sought for Slaying Pal

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Police combed Wayne County today in search of Thomas Moistner, 22, an ex-convict accused of the shotgun killing of his best friend.

State police said Moistner, of Indianapolis, abandoned his car in Hagerstown, Ind., about 20 miles west of here. He was believed to be armed with a 12 gauge shotgun. Road blocks were set up throughout the county. Two state police planes joined the search.

Moistner, Indianapolis police said, killed Thomas E. Scott, 17, Sunday night in Indianapolis after Scott had surprised him as Moistner was about to rape a nude 15-year-old girl.

Frances May Games, 16, told police Sunday night she and Scott entered her home and found her cousin, Donna Games, nude and bound to a bed.

She said Moistner, a roomer in the house, rushed out of a room and hit Scott once with the butt of the shotgun. He then killed him with one blast, she said.

Frances said she fled into a closet but Moistner managed to open the door a crack. He fired and the blast ripped six inches off the girl's skirt. He then fled.

Moistner, a tall, slim youth with tattoos on both arms, had served terms in the Kansas Reformatory and at the Indiana State Farm during the last four years for grand larceny and burglary.

'Brass Collar' Democrats in Texas Claim State Shifting Away from Ike

Editor's Note: This is another in a series by political reporters of the Associated Press who have been surveying sentiment in key states.

By ARTHUR EDSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Drive east along U. S. Highway 80, and you run into what Texans call brass collar Democrats. They are the ones who, no matter what, vote the straight Democratic ticket.

This is the year when the brass collar boys in these parts say "I told you so" to those who four years ago left the Democratic party and gave Texas' 24 electoral votes to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

For a mammoth drought has turned the grass bright yellow, as if the ground were covered with newly threshed straw. Trees are dying. The good black earth appears to be as hard as concrete.

Obviously it wouldn't have rained any more if Adlai Stevenson had carried Texas in 1952. But in times of discontent, it's convenient to blame the party in power.

Anyone touring this state, listening to what ordinary voters say about Eisenhower's chances of keeping Texas away from Stevenson, will find this a good spot to begin.

For it illustrates some of the problems the GOP is up against in a state that only twice has given its support to a Republican presidential candidate. The other time was in 1928, when Texas balked at Alfred E. Smith and voted for Herbert Hoover.

Not that the Republicans are conceding anything. They have strongholds, too.

Furthermore, they have Eisenhower, who in 1952 got 1,102,878 votes to Stevenson's 970,128.

Yet even the most ardent Republican would have a hard time leading cheers in Forney, Tex., a cotton town of 1,500, 16 miles east of Dallas.

John Boles, a staunch Stevenson man, runs a general store in Forney. Boles said farmers haven't had a good year since 1953. "Lots of them are quitting," Boles said. "If something doesn't happen soon, this will be a ghost town."

At the Farmers' National Bank, Carl C. Senter, executive vice president and a farm owner, readily gave this opinion of Eisenhower:

"The glamor has worn off.

"Everything the farmer buys keeps going up. Farm implements went up 5 per cent the 15th of the month."

But down the road a piece, in Terrell, a political hunter begins to flush Eisenhower supporters, such as J. C. Stallings, who runs an implement store.

Stallings said he still has to find his first man who is changing his vote from Eisenhower to Stevenson, yet he is pessimistic about what Texas will do.

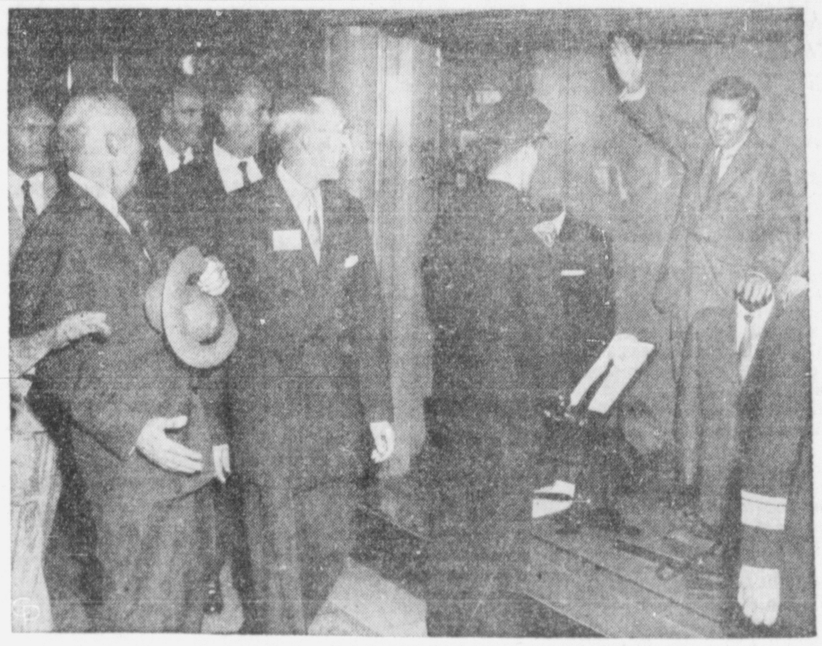

Trying to list any impressions in a state as large and complex as Texas is risky business.

But here are a few:

1. Although a few political leaders, notably Sen. Price Daniel, who's running for governor, have switched from Eisenhower to Stevenson, it's hard to find voters who will say they've changed their minds.

2. You hear almost no mention of two topics much discussed in the North and East — Eisenhower's health and will Vice President Richard Nixon help or hinder the vote harvesting?

3. Some Eisenhower supporters, even the most loyal, seem despondent over their chances.

CLOSE LOOK AT IKE SUITS THIS SALESMAN — in Cleveland for a serious campaign speech, President Eisenhower (holding hat) finds a lighter moment in an unscheduled meeting with a salesman who is standing in the window of a men's shop. Ike, flanked by police and Secret Service men, is startled by Frank Bender (right), who had climbed into the window of the store and waved to the President. "Ike sure looked surprised," was Bender's comment.

Today's News in Brief

French Study Ties to U. S.

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly opened its fall session today in an atmosphere of mounting dissatisfaction with a foreign policy linked so closely to that of the United States.

Debate on the Suez Canal controversy and the Algerian rebellion are expected to bring such criticism to the front when the Assembly tackles those issues later in the month.

Feeling has been growing in some quarters that there has been a lack of support and understanding from the United States on problems confronting France.

Sen. Auguste Pinton, secretary of state for public works, highlighted that line of thought in a report to a local organization of his Radical party. He asked:

"Might an alliance with Russia have profited France more than one with the United States?"

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Britain's Labor party today elected Aneurin Bevan as its treasurer, emphasizing the opposition party's sharp swing toward advocacy of more state ownership.

The fiery Welsh orator scored a substantial victory over George Brown, a moderate Labor member of Parliament, to regain his seat in the party's important National Executive Committee.

Moderate followers of party leader Hugh Gaitskell retained their strong majority on the 28-member executive, but the Bevanite group of left wingers increased its holdings.

Beavn, who often is critical of U. S. foreign policy, is a determined advocate of more militant socialism and wider state ownership of industry.

BERLIN (AP)—Shop window decorators in Communist East Germany were officially advised today to take tips from the Capitalist world.

Commenting on the dreary window displays of an East Berlin store, the Communist party organ Neues Deutschland said:

"Perhaps the store officials who are responsible for window decorating have never observed a Capitalistic show window. It would certainly be rewarding."

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's new president says he is not too worried about recent differences with the United States that have some Panamanians up in arms.

Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. was sworn in as chief executive Monday. At the ceremony, outgoing President Ricardo Arias brought up the differences that have arisen over interpretation of the 1955 United States-Panama treaty covering U. S. use of the Panama Canal Zone. Chief issue has been the provision providing for equality of opportunity and treatment for Panamanians employed in the canal zone.

De la Guardia expressed confidence in his speech that the matter would be settled favorably for Panama.

SINGAPORE (AP)—Police pressed a campaign against Singapore's extreme leftist elements today, and pro-Communist Chinese students staged more antigovernment demonstrations.

The latest student strikes began with demonstrations in all of the British colony's Chinese schools Monday in celebration of Communist China's National Day. Students sang Communist songs in the schoolyards.

Monday night police arrested Sun Lo Bun, 23, president of the outlawed Singapore high school students union. Students at six major Chinese high schools staged an hour-long sitdown strike today in protest again Sun's arrest.

Fancy Haircutting To Be Displayed

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Anyone like to see an expert turn out a "flattop," "forward combed boggie," "squirrel tail" or "pineapple crew cut"? Then come on down to Huntington next weekend.

Those are male haircuts, in case you don't know, and will be demonstrated here by Kenneth Stone and T. G. Rumler of the Toledo Barber College.

The occasion will be the 21st annual convention of the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of West Virginia.

Probers Eye Schools Used By Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steps are being taken to supply a special House subcommittee with a list of how many government officials in Washington send their children or grandchildren to racially mixed schools in the nation's capital.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga) and comprised largely of Southerners, made the request shortly before concluding hearing Monday into the effects of integration of white and Negro children in District of Columbia schools.

Dr. Hobard M. Corning, superintendent of schools, said he would supply the list. It is to cover the children and grandchildren of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Supreme Court justices, Cabinet members, White House aides, senators, House members and District of Columbia commissioners.

The subcommittee's investigation today was termed "illegal" by Rep. Dawson (D-Ill), one of three Negro House members.

Dawson declined to say just what action he plans against the group, but added: "I'm going to question their right to do something illegal with the taxpayer's money."

This brought the reply from Davis that he would not have proceeded if he thought the inquiry was illegal.

The subcommittee wound up its probe the same day the U. S. Supreme Court began a new session. During the weeks and months ahead the high tribunal is expected to tackle a heavy docket of cases studded with problems of racial integration in schools.

Beaten Woman Still 'Critical'

COLUMBUS (AP)—A woman beaten on the head with a hammer as she lay in bed at her home Monday remains in critical condition after undergoing surgery.

The victim, Eloise Myers, 37, suffered compound skull fractures from the hammer blows.

Police said they found her in her north side home after the husband, Robert C. Myers, 45, called them to say he believed he had killed his wife. Myers, a doctor of sociology, is director of the American Assn. of Mental Deficiency research project now under way at the Columbus State School. He is being held in jail for investigation of assault with intent to kill.

Boy, 14, Bluffs, Captures Escapee

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Donald Wilson stalked an escaped convict with an empty shotgun Monday and completed his bold bluff by marching his prisoner home to await officers.

Donald, warned that escapee Curtis Allen Reemes was in the area, saw the 41-year-old man and blasted over Reemes' head with his single-shot weapon.

He approached cautiously and found Reemes lying on the ground. Donald marched Reemes home and held him at gunpoint until deputies arrived to take him.

"I figured as long as he didn't know the gun wasn't loaded every thing might be OK," the unperturbed Donald said.

Mansion Damaged

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Defective wiring was blamed today for a fire that caused $15,000 damage to the $50,000 home of singer Eddie Fisher and his wife, actress Debbie Reynolds.

Cincy Woman Still Hunting For Her Missing Collie Pup

CINCINNATI (AP)—A determined Ohio woman has made Road Forks, N. M., a tiny crossroads village, the center of a search she says she'll never give up until she finds a missing friend.

She is looking for her dog.

The woman is Dorothy Lauck, a 44-year-old teletype operator at the Fernald Atomic Energy Plant near her home in Cincinnati.

In the last nine weeks her name and face have become familiar to people living in the dry rugged country between Lordsburg, in southwest New Mexico, and Willcox, across the border in Arizona.

In that stretch of 78 miles, her dog Mickey was lost.

Miss Lauck was returning from vacation last July 27, driving east at night on Rt. 86. She left Willcox after a rainstorm passed and opened the left rear window so the dog could poke his head out.

When she reached Lordsburg, Mickey was missing.

In the next few days she covered hundreds of miles in the two states, much of it on foot, probing gullies that a dog might crawl into in this hot, hard country.

• • •

SHE TOOK HER accumulated leave time and widened the search to the north and south, asking more people and advertising in some papers. Her sister came down from Cincinnati to help. Miss Lauck got some more days off without pay.

But the only trace of Mickey was at Road Forks.

The night crew at the traffic station there remembers the small collie that limped inside on the morning of July 28 and hid under a desk.

Next day, a boy from a restaurant gave the collie some food and the dog spent part of the day in the cool of a pool of water nearby. After that, he disappeared.

Finally, Miss Lauck had to come back to work.

In addition to the 8,000 miles she searched, she has covered the sparsely-settled area with handbills. Radio stations broadcast descriptions of the dog.

Miss Lauck has written hundreds of letters, to organizations and firms like communications companies whose linemen might be in the area or truck firms who pass through.

"I spent every cent I had, and I borrowed more besides," she said.

Would she take as replacement a pup of the same breed?

"I don't think I would," she said, "for the simple reason that I'm positive I'll get my dog back."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that the number of Americans holding jobs dropped by 681,000 to a total of 66,071,000 in September.

Paul Herbert Rebuffed by Toll Road Chief

Showdown Due Today In Accusation over '$35,000 Payoff'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul M. Herbert, who claims that a member of the Ohio Turnpike Commission received $35,000 from a firm which did $350,000 worth of business with the commission, was denied access to commission records today.

Herbert, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, informed Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy Monday that he would appear before the commissioners at 2 p. m. today at suburban Berea for a face-to-face showdown over his charges.

He asked that Shocknessy instruct the official in charge of records at Berea to permit him to see certain records of the turnpike at 11 a. m. today.

Shocknessy said the request was refused because the regular monthly meeting of the commission would be in session at that time and the group could not be bothered about the records during a meeting.

The chairman said Herbert could see the records at another time, but he had not received any further request from him.

• • •

SHOCKNESSY said Herbert was told in a letter last Wednesday that the commission meeting was at 10 a. m. and not 2 p. m.

The commission met at its regular time for routine business this morning, then recessed until afternoon.

Herbert at first declined to appear before the commission to back up his charges, as demanded by Shocknessy, but changed his mind Monday.

In his telegram to the commission chairman, Herbert said he would need a half hour without interruption "to present facts."

"He will not get one-half hour or one-half minute to say anything until he has first complied with the terms of the invitation," Shocknessy said today.

He said terms of the invitation were (1) to explain who was paid $350,000 and thereafter employed a member of the commission and (2) who got the $35,000.

"The first thing he has to do is prove what he charges," Shocknessy said. "In the absence of so proving, he will not be heard."

Freak Accident Kills Farmer, 25

CIRCLEVILLE (AP)—David Dowler, 25, was electrocuted on his farm late Monday as he was trying to shake a pair of kittens out of a long irrigation pipe.

As he raised the pipe to shake out the kittens, the pipe touched a high tension wire.

His mother, Mrs. John Dowler, who stood at the foot of the pipe as her son raised it, was burned and suffered severe shock. The kittens apparently escaped safely.

CLOSE LOOK AT IKE SUITS THIS SALESMAN — in Cleveland for a serious campaign speech, President Eisenhower (holding hat) finds a lighter moment in an unscheduled meeting with a salesman who is standing in the window of a men's shop. Ike, flanked by police and Secret Service men, is startled by Frank Bender (right), who had climbed into the window of the store and waved to the President "Ike sure looked surprised," was Bender's comment.

Today's News in Brief

French Study Ties to U. S.

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly opened its fall session today in an atmosphere of mounting dissatisfaction with a foreign policy linked so closely to that of the United States.

Debate on the Suez Canal controversy and the Algerian rebellion are expected to bring such criticism to the front when the Assembly tackles those issues later in the month.

Feeling has been growing in some quarters that there has been a lack of support and understanding from the United States on problems confronting France.

Sen. Auguste Pinton, secretary of state for public works, highlighted that line of thought in a report to a local organization of his ~~Radical party~~. He asked:

"Might an alliance with Russia have profited France more than one with the United States?"

BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Britain's Labor party today elected Aneurin Bevan as its treasurer, emphasizing the opposition party's sharp swing toward advocacy of more state ownership.

The fiery Welsh orator scored a substantial victory over George Brown, a moderate Labor member of Parliament, to regain his seat in the party's important National Executive Committee.

Moderate followers of party leader Hugh Gaitskell retained their strong majority on the 28-member executive, but the Bevanite group of left wingers increased its holdings.

Beavn, who often is critical of U. S. foreign policy, is a determined advocate of more militant socialism and wider state ownership of industry.

BERLIN (AP)—Shop window decorators in Communist East Germany were officially advised today to take tips from the Capitalist world.

Commenting on the dreary window displays of an East Berlin store, the Communist party organ Neues Deutschland said:

"Perhaps the store officials who are responsible for window decorating have never observed a Capitalistic show window. It would certainly be rewarding."

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's new president says he is not too worried about recent differences with the United States that have some Panamanians up in arms.

Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. was sworn in as chief executive Monday. At the ceremony, outgoing President Ricardo Arias brought up the differences that have arisen over interpretation of the 1955 United States-Panama treaty covering U. S. use of the Panama Canal Zone. Chief issue has been the provision providing for equality of opportunity and treatment for Panamanians employed in the canal zone.

De la Guardia expressed confidence in his speech that the matter would be settled favorably for Panama.

SINGAPORE (AP)—Police pressed a campaign against Singapore's extreme leftist elements today, and pro-Communist Chinese students staged more antigovernment demonstrations.

The latest student strikes began with demonstrations in all of the British colony's Chinese schools Monday in celebration of Communist China's National Day. Students sang Communist songs in the schoolyards.

Monday night police arrested Sun Lo Bun, 23, president of the outlawed Singapore high school students union. Students at six major Chinese high schools staged an hour-long sitdown strike today in protest again Sun's arrest.

Ex-Convict Sought for Slaying Pal

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Police combed Wayne County today in search of Thomas Moistner, 22, an ex-convict accused of the shotgun killing of his best friend.

State police said Moistner, of Indianapolis, abandoned his car in Hagerstown, Ind., about 20 miles west of here. He was believed to be armed with a 12 gauge shotgun. Road blocks were set up throughout the county. Two state police planes joined the search.

Moistner, Indianapolis police said, killed Thomas E. Scott, 17, Sunday night in Indianapolis after Scott had surprised him as Moistner was about to rape a nude 15-year-old girl.

Frances May Games, 16, told police Sunday night she and Scott entered her home and found her cousin, Donna Games, nude and bound to a bed.

She said Moistner, a roomer in the house, rushed out of a room and hit Scott once with the butt of the shotgun. He then killed him with one blast, she said.

Frances said she fled into a closet but Moistner managed to open the door a crack. He fired and the blast ripped six inches off the girl's skirt. He then fled.

Moistner, a tall, slim youth with tattoos on both arms, had served terms in the Kansas Reformatory and at the Indiana State Farm during the last four years for grand larceny and burglary.

Probers Eye Schools Used By Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steps are being taken to supply a special House subcommittee with a list of how many government officials in Washington send their children or grandchildren to racially mixed schools in the nation's capital.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga) and comprised largely of Southerners, made the request shortly before concluding hearing Monday into the effects of integration of white and Negro children in District of Columbia schools.

Dr. Hobard M. Corning, superintendent of schools, said he would supply the list. It is to cover the children and grandchildren of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Supreme Court justices, Cabinet members, White House aides, senators, House members and District of Columbia commissioners.

The subcommittee's investigation today was termed "illegal" by Rep. Dawson (D-Ill), one of three Negro House members.

Dawson declined to say just what action he plans against the group, but added: "I'm going to question their right to do something illegal with the taxpayer's money."

This brought the reply from Davis that he would not have proceeded if he thought the inquiry was illegal.

The subcommittee wound up its probe the same day the U. S. Supreme Court began a new session. During the weeks and months ahead the high tribunal is expected to tackle a heavy docket of cases studded with problems of racial integration in schools.

Beaten Woman Still 'Critical'

COLUMBUS (AP)—A woman beaten on the head with a hammer as she lay in bed at her home Monday remains in critical condition after undergoing surgery.

The victim, Eloise Myers, 37, suffered compound skull fractures from the hammer blows.

Police said they found her in her north side home after the husband, Robert C. Myers, 45, called them to say he believed he had killed his wife. Myers, a doctor of sociology, is director of the American Assn. of Mental Deficiency research project now under way at the Columbus State School. He is being held in jail for investigation of assault with intent to kill.

Boy, 14, Bluffs, Captures Escapee

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Donald Wilson stalked an escaped convict with an empty shotgun Monday and completed his bold bluff by marching his prisoner home to await officers.

Donald, warned that escapee Curtis Allen Reemes was in the area, saw the 41-year-old man and blasted over Reemes' head with his single-shot weapon.

He approached cautiously and found Reemes lying on the ground. Donald marched Reemes home and held him at gunpoint until deputies arrived to take him.

"I figured as long as he didn't know the gun wasn't loaded everything might be OK," the unperturbed Donald said.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Defective wiring was blamed today for a fire that caused $15,000 damage to the $50,000 home of singer Eddie Fisher and his wife, actress Debbie Reynolds.

'Brass Collar' Democrats in Texas Claim State Shifting Away from Ike

Editor's Note: This is another in a series by political reporters of the Associated Press who have been surveying sentiment in key states.

By ARTHUR EDSON

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Drive east along U. S. Highway 80, and you run into what Texans call brass collar Democrats. They are the ones who, no matter what, vote the straight Democratic ticket.

This is the year when the brass collar boys in these parts say "I told you so" to those who four years ago left the Democratic party and gave Texas' 24 electoral votes to Dwight D. Eisenhower.

For a mammoth drought has turned the grass bright yellow, as if the ground were covered with newly threshed straw. Trees are dying. The good black earth appears to be as hard as concrete.

Obviously it wouldn't have rained any more if Adlai Stevenson had carried Texas in 1952. But in times of discontent, it's convenient to blame the party in power.

Anyone touring this state, listening to what ordinary voters say about Eisenhower's chances of keeping Texas away from Stevenson, will find this a good spot to begin.

For it illustrates some of the problems the GOP is up against in a state that only twice has given its support to a Republican presidential candidate. The other time was in 1928, when Texas balked at Alfred E. Smith and voted for Herbert Hoover.

Not that the Republicans are conceding anything. They have strongholds, too.

Furthermore, they have Eisenhower, who in 1952 got 1,102,878 votes to Stevenson's 970,128.

Yet even the most ardent Republican would have a hard time leading cheers in Forney, Tex., a cotton town of 1,500, 16 miles east of Dallas.

John Boles, a staunch Stevenson man, runs a general store in Forney. Boles said farmers haven't had a good year since 1953. "Lots of them are quitting," Boles said. "If something doesn't happen soon, this will be a ghost town."

At the Farmers' National Bank, Carl C. Senter, executive vice president and a farm owner, readily gave this opinion of Eisenhower:

"The glamor has worn off.

"Everything the farmer buys keeps going up. Farm implements went up 5 per cent the 15th of the month."

But down the road a piece, in Terrell, a political hunter begins to flush Eisenhower supporters, such as J. C. Stallings, who runs an impiement store.

Stallings said he still has to find his first man who is changing his vote from Eisenhower to Stevenson, yet he is pessimistic about what Texas will do.

Trying to list any impressions in a state as large and complex as Texas is risky business.

But here are a few:

1. Although a few political leaders, notably Sen. Price Daniel, who's running for governor, have switched from Eisenhower to Stevenson, it's hard to find voters who will say they've changed their minds.

2. You hear almost no mention of two topics much discussed in the North and East — Eisenhower's health and will Vice President Richard Nixon help or hinder the vote harvesting?

3. Some Eisenhower supporters, even the most loyal, seem despondent over their chances.

Bond and Levy Plans Reviewed By City Board

Members Assigned To Speak before City Organizations

Monday night's regular meeting of the Washington C. H. school board was relatively short and devoted largely to routine matters and a discussion of the $645,000 bond issue for a building program and the 2.5-mill levy for operating expenses.

The meeting was held in two parts—from 7 until 7:30 p. m. and from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Between the two sessions, board members went to the high school auditorium to listen in on the meeting at which the Parent-Teacher Assn. launched its campaign for the bond issue and levy proposals.

Principal action was the authorization for payment of normal bills and teacher and employe salaries amounting to a total of $36,128. Of this, $33,526 was for salaries.

THE BOARD reviewed moves for the transfer of territory from the Miami Trace to the Washington C. H. school district. The Armbrust-Willabar Village and Roszmann tracts already have been transferred, and the board must now apply to the state Board of Education for the transfer from Miami Trace district to the Washington C. H. district of the Lipshutz subdivision on Highland Ave. and the Wendell Kaufman property on Dayton Ave. Lipschutz and Kaufman tracts were annexed by City Council last week.

The board authorized an in-service training program for teachers in the system at an estimated cost of $75.

All five members of the board said they plan to attend at least some of the session of the Ohio School Boards Assn. in Columbus.

Six Face Court Here Tuesday

Variety marked Tuesday morning's session of Municipal Court here; the cases ranged all the way from a bench warrant for non-payment of a fine to a plain drunk.

Willis Deboard of Grenfield was brought into court from the county jail on a bench warrant, and after a hearing, was committed to the workhouse until the remainder of the fine is paid at the rate of $3 credit while in the workhouse. He was brought back to jail here last week.

He was arrested just a year ago and fined $200 and costs, sentenced to jail and suspended from driving. However, after he paid $24 on the fine and costs, he was permitted to pay the rest in $8 weekly installments. The records show he had made no payments.

Frieda Wilson, 31, of 907 John St., was picked up in Milledgeville by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson at 6 a. m. Monday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident in which fence on the Barney Coe farm on Route 729 was torn down. She was fined $50 and costs on this charge and $10 and costs on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct filed by Deputy Thompson for resisting arrest.

Elwood Johnny Allen, 23, Route 1, Jeffersonville, cited for reckless operation on Route 62 by Deputy Thompson, forfeited $20 bond.

Charles L. Puckett, 63, of 621 Peabody Ave., was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. He was arrested by police at his home.

Jesse D. Moore, 60, of 517 Fourth St., who was picked up by police at 10:50 p. m. Monday on Delaware St. for driving while drunk, was fined $200 and costs, given three days in jail and suspended from driving for a year. He was driving a car owned by Willard James Mitchell, 35, of 832 John St., and had only a temporary permit.

Mitchell, who was with Moore, was fined $25 and costs for permitting an unqualified driver to operate his car and $10 and costs for intoxication.

Blood Donor Volunteers Lag

Only 85 Appointments Made and 225 Needed

With the coming of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Washington C. H. for its fifth call of the year, less than a day away, only 85 donors had been scheduled, Mrs. Leonard Korn, Red Cross chapter secretary here, said Tuesday.

Since Fayette County's quota has been raised from 150 pints to 173 pints to meet Civil Defense needs, Mrs. Korn pointed out that at least 225 donors are needed to assure the quota, because some are always rejected for various reasons.

The bloodmobile is to come to the First Christian Church Wednesday at 10 a. m. and remain until 4 p. m.

Mrs. Korn emphasized that science has shown that blood may be given safely five times a year or every eight weeks. It has been eight weeks and five days since the bloodmobile was here last.

* * *

MRS. KORN admitted she and others interested in the blood program here are a bit disappointed with the number of appointments for donors, but she said they are not discouraged. For one thing, she said, there are names of many who have never given blood before on the list and, for another, they are counting on those who have given before to come in Wednesday without appointment and give again.

With the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county the sponsors of this visit and, as such, are in charge of recruiting donors, most of the contacts have been in the rural areas of the county, Mrs. Korn said. She attributed this, in part, to the number of first-time donors on the list.

Appointments serve two purposes, Mrs. Korn explained: 1. it avoids long waits at the bloodmobile and 2. gives the staff of volunteer aides and that of the bloodmobile some idea of how to schedule the time.

Those who want appointments, she said, may call her at either 2-3681 or 2-2401.

3 Teen-agers In Jail Here

Car Stolen Here Found in Kentucky

Three teen-age boys today are in the Fayette County jail awaiting a hearing either in the Juvenile Court here or in Akron where they were on parole.

The three, who gave their ages as 14, 16 and 17 years, were brought back from Edmonton, Ky. Monday afternoon, along with a car they are believed to have stolen in Fayette County.

They were picked up there Sunday evening with a Dodge car that had been stolen about 1 a. m. from Harold Wilson's home in Staunton.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who went to Edmonton with Deputy Charles Hays about 6 p. m. Sunday, half an hour after he had received word from the sheriff in Edmonton, also brought back Wilson's car.

Sheriff said the boys bragged about their exploits and told him they had stolen a tire and wheel just outside of Ripley and sold it for $6 at a cross-roads filling station in Kentucky and that at Exit, Ky., they drove off without paying for gasoline and oil they had put in the car.

* * *

THE TIRE and wheel were recovered and returned to the owner, the sheriff said, but added the money they got for them had been spent.

Wilson told the sheriff he an his family had just returned from a vacation trip which took them to within about 15 miles of the little southern Kentucky town where his car had been recovered and the three boys taken into custody.

On the way back, the sheriff said, the boys told him they pushed Wilson's car from where it was parked beside his home in Staunton into the highway and then drove away in it.

The sheriff at noon was awaiting a return call from Akron to give more details about the boys, whose names were temporarily withheld because of their ages. The first call, he said, had brought a reply that they all were on probation.

Whether the boys will be brought before the Juvenile Court here or in Akron will not be determined, the sheriff said, until after further investigation.

Installation Planned For Rev. H. B. Twining

A reception and installation service for the Rev. Harold B. Twining is to be held at the First Baptist Church here Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Twining has returned to the pastorate he held here about 10 years ago before he went to Columbus. He had been the interim pastor of the church for two years following the resignation of the Rev. Francis T. McCarty and again after the resignation of the Rev. The Rev. and Mrs. Twining moved to Washington C. H. last week and he is now starting into his full-time ministry for the church again.

Dr. Judson Morris, state secretary of the American Baptist Convention, is to deliver the principal address at Wednesday evening's service.

Also on the program will be the Rev. Hershel Roper of Chillicothe, the Rev. James Hooper of Wilmington and several lay members of the church here.

A spokesman for the committee said the public is welcome to attend.

Monday's meeting also featured awards to the winners of the PTO membership drive in each classroom. The winners were Emily Rowe, first grade; Carolyn Reese, second grade; Jeanie Johnson, third grade; Randy Hinchman, fourth - fifth grades; and Judy Garinger, fifth - sixth grades.

Gifts were presented to all the winners.

IT WAS ALSO 4-H achievement night, and Phil Grover presented checks and awards to Fayette County Fair winners in Wayne's 4-H clubs.

Mrs. Dana Kellenberger, leader of the Wayne Whippersnappers and the Twin Oak Twigs, introduced the club members who modeled their 4-H projects.

Mrs. Eugene Thompson read an article entitled "What the 4-H Club Has Done for Some Children," describing the climb to success of a selected group of 4-H clubbers.

To close the entertainment, Judy Garinger played a piano solo and Irisha Kellenberger presented a tap dance.

Bond and Levy Plans Reviewed By City Board

Members Assigned To Speak before City Organizations

Monday night's regular meeting of the Washington C. H. school board was relatively short and devoted largely to routine matters and a discussion of the $645,000 bond issue for a building program and the 2.5-mill levy for operating expenses.

The meeting was held in two parts—from 7 until 7:30 p. m. and from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Between the two sessions, board members went to the high school auditorium to listen in on the meeting at which the Parent-Teacher Assn. launched its campaign for the bond issue and levy proposals.

Principal action was the authorization for payment of normal bills and teacher and employe salaries amounting to a total of $36,128. Of this, $33,526 was for salaries.

• • •

A SCHEDULE of appearances at meetings to outline the bond issue and levy proposal needs was set up for the five board members and Supt. W. A. Smith.

Milbourne Flee is to go to the PTA meeting at Cherry Hill and Robert Terhune to the Lioness Club meeting Tuesday night; Charles Pensyl is to speak to the Sunnyside PTA, Flee to the Eastside PTA and Supt. Smith to the Medical Assn. on Oct. 9; Terhune is to attend a meeting of the Legion Auxiliary on Oct. 10; Smith is to go to the League of Women Voters meeting Oct. 15; Elmer Reed is to appear before the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Rotary Club and William A. Lovell the Rose Ave. PTA on Oct. 16; Pensyl is to give the explanations to the Delta Kappa Gamma education society on Oct. 22 and Terhune to the Lions Club on Oct. 23. No assignment was made for the Central PTA meeting Oct. 23.

A chart, designed to show graphically the facts and figures, has been made up for use by the speakers.

THE BOARD reviewed moves for the transfer of territory from the Miami Trace to the Washington C. H. school district. The Armbrust-Willabar Village and Roszmann tracts already have been transferred, and the board must now apply to the state Board of Education for the transfer from Miami Trace district to the Washington C. H. district of the Lipshutz subdivision on Highland Ave. and the Wendell Kaufman property on Dayton Ave. Lipschutz and Kaufman tracts were annexed by City Council last week.

The board authorized an in-service training program for teachers in the system at an estimated cost of $75.

All five members of the board said they plan to attend at least some of the session of the Ohio School Boards Assn. in Columbus.

Six Face Court Here Tuesday

Variety marked Tuesday morning's session of Municipal Court here; the cases ranged all the way from a bench warrant for non-payment of a fine to a plain drunk.

Willis Deboard of Greenfield was brought into court from the county jail on a bench warrant, and after a hearing, was committed to the workhouse until the remainder of the fine is paid at the rate of $3 credit while in the workhouse. He was brought back to jail here last week.

He was arrested just a year ago and fined $200 and costs, sentenced to jail and suspended from driving. However, after he paid $24 on the fine and costs, he was permitted to pay the rest in $8 weekly installments. The records show he had made no payments.

Frieda Wilson, 31, of 907 John St., was picked up in Milledgeville by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson at 6 a. m. Monday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident in which fence on the Barney Coe farm on Route 729 was torn down. She was fined $50 and costs on this charge and $10 and costs on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct filed by Deputy Thompson for resisting arrest.

Elwood Johnny Allen, 23, Route 1, Jeffersonville, cited for reckless operation on Route 62 by Deputy Thompson, forfeited $20 bond.

Charles L. Puckett, 63, of 621 Peabody Ave., was fined $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. He was arrested by police at his home.

Jesse D. Moore, 60, of 517 Fourth St., who was picked up by police at 10:50 p. m. Monday on Delaware St. for driving while drunk, was fined $200 and costs, given three days in jail and suspended from driving for a year. He was driving a car owned by Willard James Mitchell, 35, of 832 John St., and had only a temporary permit.

Mitchell, who was with Moore, was fined $25 and costs for permitting an unqualified driver to operate his car and $10 and costs for intoxication.

Blood Donor Volunteers Lag

Only 85 Appointments Made and 225 Needed

With the coming of the Red Cross bloodmobile to Washington C. H. for its fifth call of the year, less than a day away, only 85 donors had been scheduled, Mrs. Leonard Korn, Red Cross chapter secretary here, said Tuesday.

Since Fayette County's quota has been raised from 150 pints to 173 pints to meet Civil Defense needs, Mrs. Korn pointed out that at least 225 donors are needed to assure the quota, because some are always rejected for various reasons.

The bloodmobile is to come to the First Christian Church Wednesday at 10 a. m. and remain until 4 p. m.

Mrs. Korn emphasized that science has shown that blood may be given safely five times a year or every eight weeks. It has been eight weeks and five days since the bloodmobile was here last.

• • •

MRS. KORN admitted she and others interested in the blood program here are a bit disappointed with the number of appointments for donors, but she said they are not discouraged. For one thing, she said, there are names of many who have never given blood before on the list and, for another, they are counting on those who have given before to come in Wednesday without appointment and give again.

With the Home Demonstration Clubs in the county the sponsors of this visit and, as such, are in charge of recruiting donors, most of the contacts have been in the rural areas of the county, Mrs. Korn said. She attributed this, in part, to the number of first-time donors on the list.

Appointments serve two purposes, Mrs. Korn explained: 1. it avoids long waits at the bloodmobile and 2. gives the staff of volunteer aides and that of the bloodmobile some idea of how to schedule the time.

Those who want appointments, she said, may call her at either 2-3681 or 2-2401.

3 Teen-agers In Jail Here

Car Stolen Here Found in Kentucky

Three teen-age boys today are in the Fayette County jail awaiting a hearing either in the Juvenile Court here or in Akron where they were on parole.

The three, who gave their ages as 14, 16 and 17 years, were brought back from Edmonton, Ky. Monday afternoon, along with a car they are believed to have stolen in Fayette County.

They were picked up there Sunday evening with a Dodge car that had been stolen about 1 a. m. from Harold Wilson's home in Staunton.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who went to Edmonton with Deputy Charles Hays about 6 p. m. Sunday, half an hour after he had received word from the sheriff in Edmonton, also brought back Wilson's car.

Sheriff said the boys bragged about their exploits and told him they had stolen a tire and wheel just outside of Ripley and sold it for $6 at a cross-roads filling station in Kentucky and that at Exit, Ky., they drove off without paying for gasoline and oil they had put in the car.

• • •

THE TIRE and wheel were recovered and returned to the owner, the sheriff said, but added the money they got for them had been spent.

Wilson told the sheriff he an his family had just returned from a vacation trip which took them to within about 15 miles of the little southern Kentucky town where his car had been recovered and the three boys taken into custody.

On the way back, the sheriff said, the boys told him they pushed Wilson's car from where it was parked beside his home in Staunton into the highway and then drove away in it.

The sheriff at noon was awaiting a return call from Akron to give more details about the boys, whose names were temporarily withheld because of their ages. The first call, he said, had brought a reply that they all were on probation.

Whether the boys will be brought before the Juvenile Court here or in Akron will not be determined, the sheriff said, until after further investigation.

Installation Planned For Rev. H. B. Twining

A reception and installation service for the Rev. Harold B. Twining is to be held at the First Baptist Church here Wednesday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Twining has returned to the pastorate he held here about 10 years ago before he went to Columbus. He had been the interim pastor of the church for two years following the resignation of the Rev. Francis T. McCarty and again after the resignation of the Rev. Norman Renn, who later accepted a call to the new Calvary Baptist Church when it was formed here.

The Rev. and Mrs. Twining moved to Washington C. H. last week and he is now starting into his full-time ministry for the church again.

Dr. Judson Morris, state secretary of the American Baptist Convention, is to deliver the principal address at Wednesday evening's service.

Also on the program will be the Rev. Hershel Roper of Chillicothe, the Rev. James Hooper of Wilmington and several lay members of the church here.

A spokesman for the committee said the public is welcome to attend.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 24, moderately attractive, and have had the very best education. I have spent 14 years in schools abroad, and was never at a loss with European men. I have now been home for six months, and have had eight blind dates. Each was polite, but never called again.

My friends tell me that I have developed too many "foreign" characteristics. They say I am too attentive, and don't let a man assert his masculinity—as in opening doors, arising when I enter, etc. In Europe I was taught to cushion a man's way, to make him feel that he is loved; but here it just doesn't seem to work. The men don't appreciate concern for them.

Any advice you can give me will be taken to heart and practised.

G. C.

DEAR G. C.: Your situation and your present unsatisfactory exchange with men, should be regarded as unique. It is unlikely that genuine solutions can be found by trying to adopt a formula, or rule-of-thumb, for bewitching beaux.

Actually, the remedy consists in coming really awake to your new surroundings and new associates and responding intelligently and appropriately to the other person, with clear awareness of that person, in the particular encounter of the moment.

This means venturing new friendships with your eyes open, in the spirit of facing uncharted adventure, instead of trying to act an already "learned" part in relation to every man,—as if he were a stock character in a play, and you another stock character, with your lines and behavior already assigned: cut and dried.

It calls for outgrowing (reasonably) the mold of stylized "feminine" behavior practised in Europe—which seems to concede that the male sex is, per se, more precious, adorable and indispensable than the female sex. In this country, the sexes seem to concede the ladies an even break, in their mutual dealings,—as if each sex valued its own and the other sex equally. Which is as it should be.

You write from a city where social tradition dominates, and where men in your walk of life tend to be conservative. They will want their women—the woman who is identified with them—to fit into the picture "as to the manner born." And as the average well-brought-up American man is conditioned to the exercise of mutual consideration, rather than hot house pampering by girl friends, it behooves you to recover your balance as a person, and stop burning incense indiscriminately to the male ego.

For guidance in getting your bearings, read "Love and Marriage" (Harpers) by Dr. Alexander Magoun, a book that illuminates paths to personal fulfillment.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, and not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

Negotiations In Phone Fuss Continuing

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations in the long strike of the Communication Workers of America against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. resumed here Monday.

Still to be determined is whether efforts to settle the 11-week strike are to be moved to Columbus before the state industrial commission. The commission entered the strike picture recently on request of Mayor Vernal Riffe of New Boston.

There was no indication that any progress was being made in a strike settlement. J. Curtiss Fletcher, CWA national director, said:

"When our members at Ohio Consolidated went out on strike July 15 there were almost 20 items still unsettled between the union and the new General Telephone system managemtnt of the company.

"Now, at the end of 11 weeks of strike, the same items are still in dispute. We have conducted one of the most effective strikes in telephone history, and yet the company has not budged one inch from the position it took before the strike started.

"The union's position is essentially defensive. We are defending our gains of former years. it is up to management to start dropping its retrogressive demands so that we may bargain out a satisfactory and honorable agreement."

Meanwhile, company spokesmen reported that the firm's repairmen worked on 32 severed cables last week at Sciotoville, restoring service to 930 subscribers. More than 460 other telephones were cut off during the week in other instances of cable cutting, the company said. The union has denied any knowledge of the cable cutting incidents.

Closing of Mill Shuts Off Water

RAVENNA (AP) — Closing of the Cleveland Worsted Mills Co. here has cut off the water supply of four property owners who are suing the firm for damages.

Charles Willard, William Waggoner, James Fitzgerald and Walter Kubiak of Ravenna Twp. filed suit in common pleas court. They said the company made an agreement in 1909 to provide water for household and farm purposes in exchange for permission to extend pipe, power and telephone lines over their properties.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

"Trade Alley", as one section of street was formerly called when "Stock Sales Days" were held monthly in Washington C. H., now has a counterpart in the Central Ohio Gun and Indian relic collectors Assn. sessions held here every two months.

It is a real education in trading to watch the buying, selling and trading of guns and other articles among the large number of collectors and others who attend the shows.

For instance, during the record-breaking meeting of the association held at the Merchants Building on the Fairgrounds here Saturday and Sunday, there was one instance of trading in which each party felt that he had the "best" of the transaction.

A man from Kentucky had a couple of articles to sell or trade. He approached one of the well known collectors who always makes the show, and offered to trade the articles for a gun. He had the articles priced at $10.

"I'll trade you this gun I am asking $15 for if you will give me $5 to boot", the gun collector said.

"I'll do that", said the man, and the deal was closed. It developed that the gun collector had paid $5 for the gun, so he got the other articles for nothing, and can still sell them for $5 to $10.

OLD COVERED BRIDGE

For a great many years one of the old wooden covered bridges spanned Paint Creek on West Court St.

However the tornado which laid waste a large section of the city on Sept. 8, 1885, wrecked the covered bridge, blowing it completely down and leaving the timbers in the stream.

The old structure, like all wooden bridges of the day, was held together with strong wooden pins made of white oak.

The bridge was replaced with a light steel structure which remained in use until the present modern concrete bridge was built.

HIGH CLASS GUNS

I noticed one gun collector at the meeting here Saturday and Sunday, who had more than 30 guns on exhibition for sale or trade. The guns were priced at $300. And he sold several of them.

HILL CUT AWAY

Before the Bloomingburg and Sedalia road was modernized by regrading and paving with brick, the "Willis Hill" located two miles north of Bloomingburg (near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jefferson) was much highr than now, and the road had a sharp grade on the north side of the eminence.

When the road was paved with brick some 35 years ago, it was found the hill contained a great deal of sand and gravel, and this was used as a foundation for the brick paving. As a result the grade of the road was lowered 8 or 10 feet, providing easier grade than before.

REAL MARBLES

Sunday I acquired another real marble marble. That may sound a little confusing, but what I mean is that the marble was made of white marble like most of the first marbles, and the little spheres and the game played with them, obtained their name from the fact that marbles for playing games were originally made of marble.

That reminds me that a few years ago while workmen were excavating for the foundation walls to an addition in the rear of the Levy Clothing Co. a real, white marble marble was uncovered where it had lain for possibly 75 to 100 years. So now I have a pair of real marbles.

FEW GRASSHOPPERS

Has the season been too wet for grasshoppers?

Usually late in the summer grasshoppers are very numerous, and in dry years they appear worse than in years when rainfall is a little above average during June and July.

Anyway I have not heard a single complaint of any unusual numbers of grasshoppers during the present season.

Poll Machine Dispute Still Deadlocked

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Members of the Montgomery County election board split along party lines Monday over a proposed compromise in a dispute over use of voting machines in Nov. 6 balloting.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown meeting with the board, indicated that the issue probably would go to the Ohio Supreme Court where he said a final decision appeared unlikely until after the general election.

Brown referred to an appeal from an appellate court ruling that one voting machine or a booth for paper ballot marking must be furnished for each 100 registered voters. Officials said voters in Montgomery and other counties using machines outnumbered that ratio by a wide margin.

The secretary of state said enforcement of the appellate court ruling would be difficult and costly because the election is only a few weeks away. He has termed use of both machines and paper ballots impractical.

Two Democrats approved a proposal to have the appellate court vacate its entry if one voting machine was provided for each 200 registered voters 2 or at least one paper ballot stall for each 100 voters. The two Republican board members favored appeal to the supreme court.

Y-Teen Group Plans For 'Roll Call Week'

An advertising committee for Y-teen Roll Call Week Oct. 14-21, was appointed at a meeting of the Freshman Y-teen club in Washington High School Friday.

Becky Robinson, chairman, Ann Walters and Barbara Rose will make posters to advertise the nationally observed occasion, during which the purposes of the club are reemphasized, new members recruited and the activities of the clubs made known to the public, the YWCA and the schools where they are organized.

The purpose of the group is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed as Christians." This formulation of purpose was included in the minutes of Friday's freshman Y-teen meeting.

Two girls from the freshman Y-teens will tell about Roll Call Week over the public address system at some time during the week. Officers of the club will circulate to home rooms and tell the Y-teens story there.

In other business the girls decided to have a hot chocolate get-together after one of the home football games. A committee, of four—chairman Ruth Ann Arnold, Carol Pitzer, Beverly Horney and Mary Jane Limes,—was chosen to investigate the possibilities of such a function.

Jurors Selected In Murder Trial

CINCINNATI (AP) — Trial opened Monday with seating of five prospective jurors to hear the case of Denver Powell, 45, of El Centro, Calif., charged with first-degree murder in the holdup-slaying of a delicatessen operator here.

Powell is charged with aiding James Grigsby in the robbery on Nov. 27, 1949, in which John Schreck, 61, was fatally shot. Police said Powell told them Grigsby, who was killed during a Kentucky saloon brawl several months later, fired the fatal shot.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 24, moderately attractive, and have had the very best education. I have spent 14 years in schools abroad, and was never at a loss with European men. I have now been home for six months, and have had eight blind dates. Each was polite, but never called again.

My friends tell me that I have developed too many "foreign" characteristics. They say I am too attentive, and don't let a man assert his masculinity—as in opening doors, arising when I enter, etc. In Europe I was taught to cushion a man's way, to make him feel that he is loved; but here it just doesn't seem to work. The men don't appreciate concern for them.

Any advice you can give me will be taken to heart and practised.

G. C.

DEAR G. C.: Your situation and your present unsatisfactory exchange with men, should be regarded as unique. It is unlikely that genuine solutions can be found by trying to adopt a formula, or rule-of-thumb, for bewitching beaux.

Actually, the remedy consists in coming really awake to your new surroundings and new associates and responding intelligently and appropriately to the other person, with clear awareness of that person, in the particular encounter of the moment.

This means venturing new friendships with your eyes open, in the spirit of facing uncharted adventure, instead of trying to act an already "learned" part in relation to every man,—as if he were a stock character in a play, and you another stock character, with your lines and behavior already assigned: cut and dried.

It calls for outgrowing (reasonably) the mold of stylized "feminine" behavior practised in Europe—which seems to concede that the male sex is, per se, more precious, adorable and indispensable than the female sex. In this country, the sexes seem to concede the ladies an even break, in their mutual dealings,—as if each sex valued its own and the other sex equally. Which is as it should be.

You write from a city where social tradition dominates, and where men in your walk of life tend to be conservative. They will want their women—the woman who is identified with them—to fit into the picture "as to the manner born." And as the average well-brought-up American man is conditioned to the exercise of mutual consideration, rather than hot house pampering by girl friends, it behooves you to recover your balance as a person, and stop burning incense indiscriminately to the male ego.

For guidance in getting your bearings, read "Love and Marriage" (Harpers) by Dr. Alexander Magoun, a book that illuminates paths to personal fulfillment.

Negotiations In Phone Fuss Continuing

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations in the long strike of the Communication Workers of America against the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. resumed here Monday.

Still to be determined is whether efforts to settle the 11-week strike are to be moved to Columbus before the state industrial commission. The commission entered the strike picture recently on request of Mayor Vernal Riffe of New Boston.

There was no indication that any progress was being made in a strike settlement. J. Curtiss Fletcher, CWA national director, said:

"When our members at Ohio Consolidated went out on strike July 15 there were almost 20 items still unsettled between the union and the new General Telephone system managemtnt of the company.

"Now, at the end of 11 weeks of strike, the same items are still in dispute. We have conducted one of the most effective strikes in telephone history, and yet the company has not budged one inch from the position it took before the strike started.

"The union's position is essentially defensive. We are defending our gains of former years. It is up to management to start dropping its retrogressive demands so that we may bargain out a satisfactory and honorable agreement."

Meanwhile, company spokesmen reported that the firm's repairmen worked on 32 severed cables last week at Sciotoville, restoring service to 930 subscribers. More than 460 other telephones were cut off during the week in other instances of cable cutting, the company said. The union has denied any knowledge of the cable cutting incidents.

Closing of Mill Shuts Off Water

RAVENNA (AP) — Closing of the Cleveland Worsted Mills Co. here has cut off the water supply of four property owners who are suing the firm for damages.

Charles Willard, William Waggoner, James Fitzgerald and Walter Kubiak of Ravenna Twp. filed suit in common pleas court. They said the company made an agreement in 1909 to provide water for household and farm purposes in exchange for permission to extend pipe, power and telephone lines over their properties.

"Trade Alley", as one section of street was formerly called when "Stock Sales Days" were held monthly in Washington C. H., now has a counterpart in the Central Ohio Gun and Indian relic collectors Assn. sessions held here every two months.

It is a real education in trading to watch the buying, selling and trading of guns and other articles among the large number of collectors and others who attend the shows.

For instance, during the record-breaking meeting of the association held at the Merchants Building on the Fairgrounds here Saturday and Sunday, there was one instance of trading in which each party felt that he had the "best" of the transaction.

A man from Kentucky had a couple of articles to sell or trade. He approached one of the well known collectors who always makes the show, and offered to trade the articles for a gun. He had the articles priced at $10.

"I'll trade you this gun I am asking $15 for if you will give me $5 to boot", the gun collector said.

"I'll do that", said the man, and the deal was closed. It developed that the gun collector had paid $5 for the gun, so he got the other articles for nothing, and can still sell them for $5 to $10.

OLD COVERED BRIDGE

For a great many years one of the old wooden covered bridges spanned Paint Creek on West Court St.

However the tornado which laid waste a large section of the city on Sept. 8, 1885, wrecked the covered bridge, blowing it completely down and leaving the timbers in the stream.

The old structure, like all wooden bridges of the day, was held together with strong wooden pins made of white oak.

The bridge was replaced with a light steel structure which remained in use until the present modern concrete bridge was built.

HIGH CLASS GUNS

I noticed one gun collector at the meeting here Saturday and Sunday, who had more than 30 guns on exhibition for sale or trade. The guns were priced at $300. And he sold several of them.

HILL CUT AWAY

Before the Bloomingburg and Sedalia road was modernized by regrading and paving with brick, the "Willis Hill" located two miles north of Bloomingburg (near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jefferson) was much highr than now, and the road had a sharp grade on the north side of the eminence.

When the road was paved with brick some 35 years ago, it was found the hill contained a great deal of sand and gravel, and this was used as a foundation for the brick paving. As a result the grade of the road was lowered 8 or 10 feet, providing easier grade than before.

REAL MARBLES

Sunday I acquired another real marble marble. That may sound a little confusing, but what I mean is that the marble was made of white marble like most of the first marbles, and the little spheres and the game played with them, obtained their name from the fact that marbles for playing games were originally made of marble.

That reminds me that a few years ago while workmen were excavating for the foundation walls to an addition in the rear of the Levy Clothing Co. a real, white marble marble was uncovered where it had lain for possibly 75 to 100 years. So now I have a pair of real marbles.

Anyway I have not heard a single complaint of any unusual numbers of grasshoppers during the present season.

Poll Machine Dispute Still Deadlocked

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Members of the Montgomery County election board split along party lines Monday over a proposed compromise in a dispute over use of voting machines in Nov. 6 balloting.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown meeting with the board, indicated that the issue probably would go to the Ohio Supreme Court where he said a final decision appeared unlikely until after the general election.

Brown referred to an appeal from an appellate court ruling that one voting machine or a booth for paper ballot marking must be furnished for each 100 registered voters. Officials said voters in Montgomery and other counties using machines outnumbered that ratio by a wide margin.

The secretary of state said enforcement of the appellate court ruling would be difficult and costly because the election is only a few weeks away. He has termed use of both machines and paper ballots impractical.

Two Democrats approved a proposal to have the appellate court vacate its entry if one voting machine was provided for each 200 registered voters 2 or at least one paper ballot stall for each 100 voters. The two Republican board members favored appeal to the supreme court.

Y-Teen Group Plans For 'Roll Call Week'

An advertising committee for Y-teen Roll Call Week Oct. 14-21, was appointed at a meeting of the Freshman Y-teen club in Washington High School Friday.

Becky Robinson, chairman, Ann Walters and Barbara Rose will make posters to advertise the nationally observed occasion, during which the purposes of the club are reemphasized, new members recruited and the activities of the clubs made known to the public, the YWCA and the schools where they are organized.

The purpose of the group is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed as Christians." This formulation of purpose was included in the minutes of Friday's freshman Y-teen meeting.

Some Incidents Make Us Pause and Think

On a recent day at a corner of Fayette and Court Streets we saw a man groping his way across the street. Apparently he was not watching traffic lights or oncoming traffic. He was narrowly missed by an irate driver. His close call gave several people the "shivers".

The man apparently was trying to be careful but when a bystander asked him why he was walking against signal lights and not seeing the coming car in motion, his answer was that he did not see very well, didn't notice the car coming at him and thought the traffic light indicated he was moving the right way. "I guess I'll have to see about some glasses", was his remark.

The incident made us wonder if this was only one of many instances where people are at fault due to poor vision and hesitate to admit it by asking someone to "see them across the street".

This brings us to a remark we heard from an oculist not long ago when he said that people who occasionally miss a bottom step or who wonder why an automobile passed so close it left tread marks on their shoes, or say "Hello Joe" when he meets Frank on the street, should not always plead absent - mindedness when in fact most of them needed a thorough eye examination.

This is not meant as a free advertisement for eye specialists but it does call attention to the fact that many people do n e g l e c t failing sight when something might be done to help them.

It is probable that most people pay attention to those who urge them to see their dentist twice a year, or to see their doctor for a physical check-up once a year. A toothache takes them to a dentist's office in a hurry or a nagging pain leads them to a physician, but pain isn't always the yardstick to measure eye ailments, major or minor.

For this reason our schools and most parents are careful to call attention to a child who seems to indicate some eye detect. Usually some effort is made to remedy such a case.

Science is spending millions of dollars for equipment that will enable people to become almost as familiar with the stars as most of us are with our own lawn, yet many people, through poor vision, stumble their way across a street, grimly hopeful that they will make it to the other side, seemingly oblivious to the baleful glances of drivers or other people whom they bump. Most of the time they avoid accident, but they never will learn that the "other fellow" may get careless or will not always be able to protect them.

1,788 Needlessly Dead

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you spare three minutes which might help you and your family to live longer?

Yes? Then read on:

If this is a normally safe week, 1,788 Americans alive this morning will be dead seven days from today. Needlessly dead.

They will die in accidents, most of them avoidable. Another 173,071 will hurt themselves in accidents, most of them avoidable.

Wouldn't you think a country odd if it were safer to fight for on a foreign battlefield in wartime than to dwell in during peace?

Well, fellow Americans, that's our happy, prosperous country, the land of the home-hurt f r e e and the car-crippled brave.

During the bloody World War II the United States suffered an average of 65,330 combat dead and 149,077 combat w o u n d e d each year. But during peaceful but even more bloody 1955, its accident toll was 93,000 dead and 9,000,000 injured. What other nation in history has managed to be more deadly at work and play than it has been at war?

"The number of Americans killed accidentally last year was nearly triple the number of GI deaths during the entire Korean war," pointed out Kenneth Hawthorne, director of a safety organization called the "Emergencies—Don't wait-Week Institute."

The financial cost of these accidents came to $10 billion, enough to run the New York state government for the next eight years.

The seventh annual Emergencies-Don't-Wait- Week, proclaimed this year by 34 governors and 300 mayors started Monday.

And what will happen during the next seven days, even as safe patterns of living are being emphasized by a nationwide educational program?

Hawthorne predicts 1,788 violent accidental deaths, and gives this partial breakdown of causes:

Eleven hunters will either kill themselves by careless handling of their own guns or be shot to death by companions who mistake them for four-footed game.

Among 31 other firearm deaths most of the victims will be children between 5 and 14.

Eighteen do-it-yourself handymen will be electrocuted doing home repair jobs because they forgot to turn off the current.

Approximately 381 persons will suffer fatal falls on slippery pavements, in bathtubs, and on highly polished floors.

Fires will take another 121 lives and many will be smokers who lit their last cigarets in bed just before falling asleep.

Some 47 will die of leaking gas or poisons taken by mistake, and many will be small children.

And about 731 will be killed in traffic mishaps of all kinds.

What is the best way to keep members of your own household off the obituary list? Hawthorne offered these suggestions:

1. Keep poisonous househ o l d cleaners out of the reach of children.

2. Make sure floors are not slippery or cluttered, and t h a t stairways are well lighted.

3. Don't overload wiring, and don't store oily rags.

4. Lock up firearms, and don't assume they are unloaded.

5. Keep a first aid kit in your house and car, and learn how to use it.

6. Drive your own car the way you believe the other fellow ought to drive his.

October is the most wonderful month of the year to be alive. But you can't enjoy it lying in a hospital or a morgue.

An Anguished Mother's Question

By George Sokolsky

Both candidates for the presidency might be asked a very simple question:

What do you intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner in Red China? Maybe the candidates do not know how to answer the question. Maybe these Americans are doomed to rot and die. But there is no harm in asking the question.

It might also be asked of every candidate for the United States Senate and every candidate for the House of Representatives.

The M o n t r o s e, Calif., Ledger tells of a mother who faced this as a very practical problem. She has a son who joined the Army of the United States of America but found himself working for the United Nations in Korea. He did not know that he was a United Nations soldier; he thought that he was taken captive by the Red Chinese, he discovered now and still is.

His mother has been trying to discover where her son is. The Montrose Ledger says:

"The record shows that her son had been inducted into the army—the United States Army—and had been given training as a machine-g u n n e r. He had been given an army—American army—uniform, and paid his soldier's wages with American money. He had American officers and he went to Okinawa—an American base. Then he was transshipped to Korea."

Unfortunately from that t i m e on, he ceased to be an American soldier and he became a United Nations soldier. His mother did not know that until she tried to discover what had happened to her son. First he was reported missing, then dead, and finally as a prisoner of the Red Chinese.

So the soldier's mother wrote to the Army to ask what about it. It seems as though the Pentagon did not know and had no ideas, but they asked the State Department. Finally the mother did get a letter from Washington. As the aforesaid Ledger recites the story:

"She got plenty of sincere expressions of sympathy, but the 'responsibility' was laid at the feet of the Communist Chinese."

But her son never joined the Chinese communists; he joined the Army of the United States and he assumed, as his mother, that he continued to belong to the United States and that he was the responsibility of the United States. However, that was only an assumption. He is now held by the Red Chinese as a pawn in a negotiation that has taken more than a year and he is still in prison. That negotiation over her son and other mothers' sons started immediately after the conference at the S u m m i t at Geneva and has gone on and on and on ever since.

But this American boy is stuck in Red China and there seems to be no way of getting him back to La Crescenta where his mother has a home for him.

Well, there is something to ask candidates about. It is more important than Ike's ileum; it is more important than whether Alger Hiss was a spy or only a red herring. It affects every household whose sons are to be called for military service or who are in the service now.

Are those boys American or have they become denaturalized by the United Nations? That is the question to ask the candidates.

The candidates, of course, like to talk in broad generalities about the glories of peace, to which Isaiah and Confucius referred in passing. But what this California mother wants to know and we can all join her in asking is what w o u l d happen to an American boy who joined in an expedition against the Suez. Canal. Would he be an American or an United Nations soldier and if the latter, where does he get off?

It used to be that Americans were never afraid of anything, particularly not of their government. But I notice that the Montrose Ledger does not give the mother's name. It only refers to her as a "La Crescenta mother".

And it says that she has appealed to friends and neighbors to help her. The best way to help is to ask the candidates of both parties what they intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner years after wars ended and truce agreements were signed. Maybe somebody will answer in a campaign year.

Farms May Supply Needed Cortisone

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

American farmers may be able to give medical science a hand by growing and harvesting "cortisone crops."

This, at least, is the hope of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and, of course, our scientists. Studies are under way right now to determine the feasibility of the plan.

The "cortisone crops" w o u l d be plants of the Dioscorea species, close relatives of the Mexican yam, having a high content of hormone-like c h e micals which can be converted into cortisone, male and female sex hormones and other steroid substances.

NEW STRAIN

In fact, two new hormone precursors, found in a new strain of the Dioscorea plant on the Mexican-Gualtamalan b o r d e r, may possibly prove to be better raw material for the manufacture of cortisone t h a n any presently known.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Either President Eisenhower is mad at Adlai Stevenson for needling him or he has decided to fight harder. What's happening now is beginning to look like a repetition of 1952.

Monday was the first chance Eisenhower had to hit back since Stevenson ridiculed him last week. Stevenson must have stung. Eisenhower poured sarcasm on Stevenson. The two men belittled each other as a leader.

And Eisenhower is beginning to use some of the very words — "bunk," for instance — he threw at the Democrats when he got fired up in the 1952 campaign.

In the early days of the 1952 race Stevenson, a much wittier man in those days, repeatedly jibed at Eisenhower, calling him a "me, too" candidate and otherwise making light of him.

At last Eisenhower boiled over. Sweeping across Indiana in mid-September 1952 he made one speech after another complaining about Stevenson's humor. He told the crowds:

"I can't be amusing in this business. These are not laughing matters on which we are speaking . . . now as we face the issues of this campaign I see nothing funny about them."

Stevenson replied that he was just saying what came naturally.

As the campaign picked up speed, Eisenhower identified Stevenson with President Truman, calling them the "Siamese twins." And he said: "This has been some campaign. The present incumbent (Truman) and his protege have assailed me with the greatest collection of flim-flamming accusations made in any campaign."

He hasn't gone that far as yet in this campaign. But he must have decided he was too relaxed for he has decided to campaign harder.

Touches of ridicule for Eisenhower crept i n t o Stevenson's speeches early this year. On Sept. 22 and 23 he said "I respect the kindly intentions of President Eisenhower" and that he was "willing to believe" Eisenhower didn't "understand what he was saying" when he talked of the farm problem in 1952.

Then he added he suspects Eisenhower of "political expediency" in dealing with the farmers this year. On Sept. 26 at Kansas City he made his most scornful attack on Eisenhower so far.

After accusing Eisenhower of failure to live up to his "responsibility of leadership," Stevenson said: "In fact, many people have wondered how much President Eisenhower has had to do with the Eisenhower administration. Sometimes the President seemed to wonder himself . . .

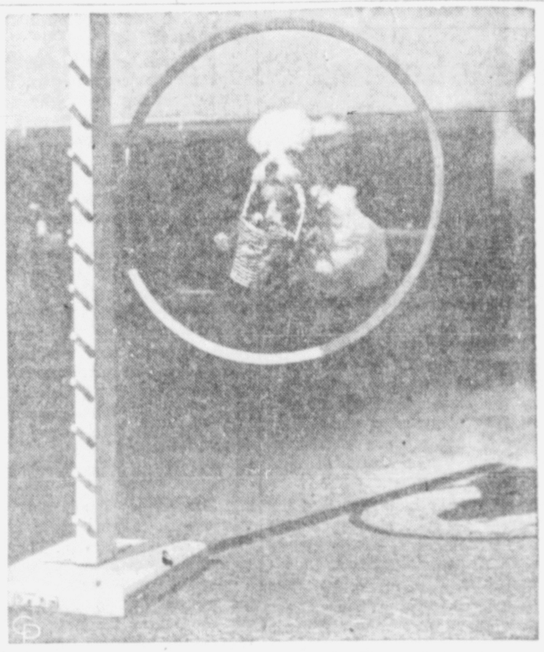

"There is only one question to be asked about the Eisenhower administration. That is: 'Who's in charge here anyway?' Who, in this businessman's administration keeps the store?"

Monday Eisenhower went to Ohio and Kentucky and made two speeches. He didn't mention Stevenson by name, but there could be no doubt whom he meant when he said:

"We all know that there are people who suffer from living in a world of words and phrases for so long that they can no longer recognize action when they see it.

"And — when it comes to a really critical matter like political leadership — we recall a fact that all of us have seen in our own daily lives: The longest lectures almost always come from those with the least experience."

Some Incidents Make Us Pause and Think

On a recent day at a corner of Fayette and Court Streets we saw a man groping his way across the street. Apparently he was not watching traffic lights or oncoming traffic. He was narrowly missed by an irate driver. His close call gave several people the "shivers".

The man apparently was trying to be careful but when a bystander asked him why he was walking against signal lights and not seeing the coming car in motion, his answer was that he did not see very well, didn't notice the car coming at him and thought the traffic light indicated he was moving the right way. "I guess I'll have to see about some glasses", was his remark.

The incident made us wonder if this was only one of many instances where people are at fault due to poor vision and hesitate to admit it by asking someone to "see them across the street".

This brings us to a remark we heard from an oculist not long ago when he said that people who occasionally miss a bottom step or who wonder why an automobile passed so close it left tread marks on their shoes, or say "Hello Joe" when he meets Frank on the street, should not always plead absent - mindedness when in fact most of them needed a thorough eye examination.

This is not meant as a free advertisement for eye specialists but it does call attention to the fact that many people do neglect failing sight when something might be done to help them.

It is probable that most people pay attention to those who urge them to see their dentist twice a year, or to see their doctor for a physical check-up once a year. A toothache takes them to a dentist's office in a hurry or a nagging pain leads them to a physician, but pain isn't always the yardstick to measure eye ailments, major or minor.

For this reason our schools and most parents are careful to call attention to a child who seems to indicate some eye defect. Usually some effort is made to remedy such a case.

Science is spending millions of dollars for equipment that will enable people to become almost as familiar with the stars as most of us are with our own lawn, yet many people, through poor vision, stumble their way across a street, grimly hopeful that they will make it to the other side, seemingly oblivious to the baleful glances of drivers or other people whom they bump. Most of the time they avoid accident, but they never will learn that the "other fellow" may get careless or will not always be able to protect them.

1,788 Needlessly Dead

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Can you spare three minutes which might help you and your family to live longer?

Yes? Then read on:

If this is a normally safe week, 1,788 Americans alive this morning will be dead seven days from today. Needlessly dead.

They will die in accidents, most of them avoidable. Another 173,071 will hurt themselves in accidents, most of them avoidable.

Wouldn't you think a country odd if it were safer to fight for on a foreign battlefield in wartime than to dwell in during peace?

Well, fellow Americans, that's our happy, prosperous country, the land of the home-hurt free and the car-crippled brave.

During the bloody World War II the United States suffered an average of 65,330 combat dead and 149,077 combat wounded each year. But during peaceful but even more bloody 1955, its accident toll was 93,000 dead and 9,000,000 injured. What other nation in history has managed to be more deadly at work and play than it has been at war?

"The number of Americans killed accidentally last year was nearly triple the number of GI deaths during the entire Korean war," pointed out Kenneth Hawthorne, director of a safety organization called the "Emergencies—Don't wait-Week Institute."

The financial cost of these accidents came to $10 billion, enough to run the New York state government for the next eight years.

The seventh annual Emergencies-Don't-Wait- Week, proclaimed this year by 34 governors and 300 mayors started Monday.

And what will happen during the next seven days, even as safe patterns of living are being emphasized by a nationwide educational program?

Hawthorne predicts 1,788 violent accidental deaths, and gives this partial breakdown of causes:

Eleven hunters will either kill themselves by careless handling of their own guns or be shot to death by companions who mistake them for four-footed game.

Among 31 other firearm deaths most of the victims will be children between 5 and 14.

Eighteen do-it-yourself handymen will be electrocuted doing home repair jobs because they forgot to turn off the current.

Approximately 381 persons will suffer fatal falls on slippery pavements, in bathtubs, and on highly polished floors.

Fires will take another 121 lives and many will be smokers who lit their last cigarets in bed just before falling asleep.

Some 47 will die of leaking gas or poisons taken by mistake, and many will be small children.

And about 731 will be killed in traffic mishaps of all kinds.

What is the best way to keep members of your own household off the obituary list? Hawthorne offered these suggestions:

1. Keep poisonous household cleaners out of the reach of children.
2. Make sure floors are not slippery or cluttered, and that stairways are well lighted.
3. Don't overload wiring, and don't store oily rags.
4. Lock up firearms, and don't assume they are unloaded.
5. Keep a first aid kit in your house and car, and learn how to use it.
6. Drive your own car the way you believe the other fellow ought to drive his.

October is the most wonderful month of the year to be alive. But you can't enjoy it lying in a hospital or a morgue.

An Anguished Mother's Question

By George Sokolsky

Both candidates for the presidency might be asked a very simple question:

What do you intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner in Red China? Maybe the candidates do not know how to answer the question. Maybe these Americans are doomed to rot and die. But there is no harm in asking the question.

It might also be asked of every candidate for the United States Senate and every candidate for the House of Representatives.

The Montrose, Calif., Ledger tells of a mother who faced this as a very practical problem. She has a son who joined the Army of the United States of America but found himself working for the United Nations in Korea. He did not know that he was a United Nations soldier; he thought that he was taken captive by the Red Chinese, he discovered now and still is.

His mother has been trying to discover where her son is. The Montrose Ledger says:

"The record shows that her son had been inducted into the army—the United States Army—and had been given training as a machine-gunner. He had been given an army—American army—uniform, and paid his soldier's wages with American money. He had American officers and he went to Okinawa—an American base. Then he was transshipped to Korea."

Unfortunately from that time on, he ceased to be an American soldier and he became a United Nations soldier. His mother did not know that until she tried to discover what had happened to her son. First he was reported missing, then dead, and finally as a prisoner of the Red Chinese.

So the soldier's mother wrote to the Army to ask what about it. It seems as though the Pentagon did not know and had no ideas, but they asked the State Department. Finally the mother did get a letter from Washington. As the aforesaid Ledger recites the story:

"She got plenty of sincere expressions of sympathy, but the 'responsibility' was laid at the feet of the Communist Chinese.

But her son never joined the Chinese communists; he joined the Army of the United States and he assumed, as his mother, that he continued to belong to the United States and that he was the responsibility of the United States. However, that was only an assumption. He is now held by the Red Chinese as a pawn in a negotiation that has taken more than a year and he is still in prison. That negotiation over her son and other mothers' sons started immediately after the conference at the Summit at Geneva and has gone on and on and on ever since.

But this American boy is stuck in Red China and there seems to be no way of getting him back to La Crescenta where his mother has a home for him.

Well, there is something to ask candidates about. It is more important than Ike's ileum; it is more important than whether Alger Hiss was a spy or only a red herring. It affects every household whose sons are to be called for military service or who are in the service now.

Are those boys American or have they become denaturalized by the United Nations? That is the question to ask the candidates.

The candidates, of course, like to talk in broad generalities about the glories of peace, to which Isaiah and Confucius referred in passing. But what this California mother wants to know and we can all join her in asking is what would happen to an American boy who joined in an expedition against the Suez Canal. Would he be an American or an United Nations soldier and if the latter, where does he get off?

It used to be that Americans were never afraid of anything, particularly not of their government. But I notice that the Montrose Ledger does not give the mother's name. It only refers to her as a "La Crescenta mother".

And it says that she has appealed to friends and neighbors to help her. The best way to help is to ask the candidates of both parties what they intend to do about Americans who are held prisoner years after wars ended and truce agreements were signed. Maybe somebody will answer in a campaign year.

Farms May Supply Needed Cortisone

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

American farmers may be able to give medical science a hand by growing and harvesting "cortisone crops."

This, at least, is the hope of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and, of course, our scientists. Studies are under way right now to determine the feasibility of the plan.

The "cortisone crops" would be plants of the Dioscorea species, close relatives of the Mexican yam, having a high content of hormone-like chemicals which can be converted into cortisone, male and female sex hormones and other steroid substances.

NEW STRAIN

In fact, two new hormone precursors, found in a new strain of the Dioscorea plant on the Mexican-Gualtamalan border, may possibly prove to be better raw material for the manufacture of cortisone than any presently known.

The value of such plants is obvious. If they can be grown successfully in the U. S. it would mean plentiful, relatively inexpensive hormones for medical use.

Nationalization Seen Curbing Outside Help

Nation Which Decides To Go It Alone May Cut Financial Throat

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Does it pay a nation to seize others' property? Some of them seem to think so. But the question is whether they can make a go of running it themselves, and whether they'll scare off further outside financial aid, not only for themselves but for their neighbors who say they need it desperately.

Seizure of the Suez Canal is the latest example of the wave of nationalization that has been gaining strength in various areas of the world.

But on the purely business and investment front the debate is largely one of dollars and cents. Americans have huge sums invested abroad — more than 19 billion dollars worth of property and securities.

The underdeveloped countries are crying for more. Every now and then some nation seizes foreign-held and foreign-developed properties.

"No one knows when, where or how the next blow will fall," says the First National City Bank of New York in its October letter out today.

"Nationalization of foreign assets, repudiation of debt and anti-foreign discriminations in various shapes and forms afford poor inducement for outside people to risk either their tax money or their private savings in areas that do not recognize a code of fair conduct in international financial relations. Who wants to throw good money after bad?"

On the question of whether nations really profit by seizing the property of others, the bank notes that "in general, the record shows —where nationalization has been tried—not more, but less, production has resulted." It cites two examples: The seizure of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.'s wells and the Great Abadan Refinery by Mossadegh in 1951 in Iran, and the Nationalization of the tin mines in Bolivia in 1952.

The Abadán refinery, largest in the world, closed down for 3½ years and the production of Iranian oil all but stopped.

Seizure of the tin mines in Bolivial the bank says, hasn't worked out so well.

The next nationalization step most feared by American business at the moment involves the oil fields in the Arabian lands.

A pariah dog is the native cur of Egypt and other Oriental countries and is regarded as an outcast and scavenger.

Mansfield Wonders What Will Happen to 'Malabar'

MANSFIELD (AP)—Around here, folks are wondering what is going to happen to Malabar, the 1,000-acre farm of the late Louis Bromfield, novelist and soil expert who carved it out of abandoned fields and eroded hills.

The "Friends of the Land" are wondering, too, and they are also doing something. They want to preserve Malabar as a living memorial to the most famous member of their organization, and maintain it as a demonstration of the advanced agricultural methods Bromfield preached and practiced.

Louis Bromfield came back to his native Richland County of Ohio in 1938—back to the Pleasant Valley which had been with him in spirit all through the years he lived in Europe, where, on a small farm outside Paris, he divided his time between farming and writing novels.

Already established as a literary celebrity—a Pulitzer Prize winner whose books had been made into motion pictures—Bromfield returned to what he often called "the great adventure of my life," the purchase of four worn-out farms and the rebuilding of them into the lush Malabar farm, named for a section of the Malabar Coast of India, scene of "The Rains Came."

Over a period of 15 years, Bromfield practiced at Malabar what he had been preaching for many years. His thinking is best summed up in excerpts from one of his books, "Pleasant Valley," the story of his return to the land:

"We know that poor, worn-out land makes not only poor crops and scrubby cattle; it makes poor, underdeveloped, undernourished people as well."

". . . Much rural insecurity arises because there are too many bad and careless farmers, and too many lazy ones—the difference is that their prosperous forefathers had deep virgin soil, now destroyed and mined-out by succeeding generations who put nothing back into the soil."

At Malabar, Bromfield set out to practice "the new agriculture." His restoration program included the rebuilding of the soil organically, improving drainage, halting erosion, fertilization and the addition of "trace" elements to the soil.

Three years after Malabar was established there came into being an organization known as "Friends of the Land." Made up of writers, bankers, professors and others.

Bromfield joined them, not as a mere figurehead, but as a working member. He made cross-country speaking jaunts, appeared before hundreds of college, industrial and farming groups.

Last March "Mr. B." died. Fellow members of "Friends of the Land" feared that his death marked also the end of Malabar. Not for long though.

With family and estate obligations still to be considered, the "Friends" are already looking for means to maintain the farm in its present state. There is reason to believe that the famous Battelle Memorial Institute of Columbus, might be willing to undertake agricultural research and development at Malabar should enough money be raised by private subscription or endowment to purchase the property.

For the present, all expenses incurred in the farm operations are being assumed personally by Herbert and Ralph Cobey, Galion industrialists and close friends of Bromfield.

Britain Could Dry Up Nile But She Would Hurt Herself

LONDON (AP)—"Egypt is the Nile and the Nile is Egypt."

So said Napoleon, and it's a point that Britain, locked in conflict with the rulers of Egypt, has in mind these days. For Britain could switch off the flow of the Nile which rises in British territory—and so deny life-giving water to 19 million Egyptians.

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd in a speech the other day posed this question:

If worst comes to worst, if President Nasser refuses to surrender control of the Suez Canal, would the British shut off the Nile?

Authorized spokesman of the Eden government — and indeed Lennox-Boyd himself—emphasized he was not threatening anyone. And government sources say Britain actually has no intention of switching off the Nile.

Lennox-Boyd said:

"The White Nile rises in Uganda —British - protected territory. We have an agreement with Egypt under which their engineers, stationed at our dam, can within certain limits decide the volume of water which reaches Egypt through our Owen Falls. What would happen to Egypt's vital interests if we were now to tear up this agreement on the grounds that it infringed our sovereignty?"

The water that flows to Egypt comes from the White Nile and the Blue Nile. The two rivers meet at Khartoum, capital of Sudan.

The White Nile comes from Lake Victoria in Uganda. From November to June it is the main stream that feeds both Sudan and Egypt. (From July to October the Blue Nile, rising in the highlands of Ethiopia, is in flood.) Shutting of the sluice gates at Owen Falls, outside Jinja in Uganda, could reduce Egypt's lifestream to a virtual trickle much of the year.

In Egypt, 1,500 miles away, peasants could not produce the cotton Nasser is trading for Communist arms. Egypt's entire food-producing program would be dandangered.

But the British would be cutting off their noses. Such a shutdown would create havoc in their own territories.

Water going through Owen Falls produces power for Uganda's main industries — sugar milling, cement - making, ginning cotton, cigarettes, coffee curing.

Areas of neighboring Kenya also would be deprived of electric power. River navigation would suffer in Ugdana as well as in Sudan.

Fire Prevention Week Activities Planned Here

A new touch has been added as Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13, rolls around again this year.

If you see some distinguished looking men wearing fire hats and riding on a piece of fire equipment through downtown Washington C. H. next week, take note — they're members of the Fayette County Insurance Assn. campaigning to remind people that fire safety measures have saved many lives, and if people would just remember little things like putting out cigarettes, a lot more lives could be saved.

Members of the association met with the Fire Chief, George Hall, Monday noon to map out strategy for the coming week, which promises to be the biggest ever planned.

There will be daily rides about town by members of the association sporting posters and placards proclaiming the week. And each day after touring the downtown area, the hook and ladder truck will head out to one of the elementary schools for a fire drill and a short talk to the students who will gather around the engine.

* * *

THE SCHOOLS are the main object of the weeks efforts this year. As in the past, the fire chief will hold special drills at every school. Posters will be spread about in the schools and students will be given pamphlets and other literature stressing fire prevention measures.

In Washington C. H., school patrol members will wear special red fire hats.

Downtown store clerks and employes will be asked to wear buttons. Jim Chakeres has agreed to run film trailers at the Drive-In and his downtown theatre.

City Manager James K. Parkinson, will sign a Fire Prevention Week proclamation Saturday to give the Washington C. H. observance the official stamp of approval.

Many other city, county, state and national officials will be signing proclamations of the same sort as the nation's fire departments and safety - minded people go all out to educate the public in the prevention of fires.

Cobb To Sell All Racing, Breeding Stock

A complete dispersal sale of all racing and breeding stock owned by Eddie Cobb will be held at the Fayette County Fairgrounds in late November. Cobb, one of the most famous trainers and drivers in the harness horse business today, is selling his stock in order to devote full time to the successful public stable which he operates.

He has decided to sell all horses owned by himself, either outright or in partnerships. Included in the list will be the sire, Jerry The First. From the present racing stable will come Honest Jerry, Honest Jimmy, Jerry Perkins and Vanity's Son. Yearlings include Irish Mollie and Gallant Star. Brood mares include Honest Truth, Shannon and Lady Attorney. In addition many top weanling colts and fillies will be offered.

Cobb will not quit the standard bred racing business, it was made clear, but he will continue to train and drive on the nation's big tracks for other owners.

14-K saves the day!

*Idea suggested by Dick Moehlman 2719 Atlantic Ave. Cincinnati, Ohio

The Smiths raked hard all afternoon

"Not one leaf left"—They spoke too soon. A gust of wind heads right their way

But "14-K" saves the day!

Look for this seal. It's your guarantee of beer at its golden best . . . of purity, brilliance and genuine satisfaction in every drop.

"Ah-h-h...beer at its golden best!"

How come Hudepohl tastes so extra friendly and refreshing when you're extra thirsty? Is it Hudepohl's premium ingredients? Or the special blend of hops? Or the longer old-world aging? They're all important reasons. But even more important is our costlier step in brewing called Process 14-K. For it's this remarkable finishing process that adds the final brilliant touch to Hudepohl's famous flavor.

Good golden HUDEPOHL Beer

Canton Still Voted as No. 1 In Poll of Ohio High Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ever wonder how a team gets the No. 1 football ranking among Ohio's high schools?

Well, take a look at Canton McKinley, if you can see that high. Last Friday, in Akron's Rubber Bowl, the state champions banged into Barberton's Magics, who had rolled over Cleveland Glenville and Akron St. Marys in previous games.

When it was all over, McKinley had a 61-0 victory. Little Phil Martin raced for six touchdowns. The Magics tried six passes. One was completed, and McKinley intercepted the other five. Of 18 passes tossed against 'em in three games, four have been completed and the Bulldogs have intercepted 11. Barberton had one consolation—it's the first team to force McKinley to punt this year.

So, for the second straight week, McKinley is the No. 1 choice of Ohio sports writers in the Associated Press poll. Of the 40 voters, 13 named the Bulldogs on top, 39 had 'em somehwere in the top 10, and they wound up with 292 points, far ahead of Massillon's second-place 234.

The standings were jumbled more than somewhat this week as Mansfield (3), East Liverpool (4), Alliance (5) and Portsmouth (9) of last week's elite were defeated and dumped from the top 10. Moving in were Toledo Libbey, New Philadelphia, East Cleveland Shaw and Toledo Scott, all with 3-0 records.

Springfield's Wildcats, who trimmed Portsmouth, jumped from sixth to third despite the fact only three of the 40 ballots were from southwest Ohio; Massillon clung to second after defeating Alliance; New Philadelphia jumped to fifth, behind Toledo Libbey, by ending East Liverpool's 13-game winning streak.

The poll results are shown with first place votes in parentheses, poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis, won-lost records, and the points scored by and against the top 10, all of which have 3-0 records:

Yankees Favored To Defeat Bums

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees today were a solid 7½-5 choice to win the World Series from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bookmakers also quoted the odds as 10-1 against the Yanks sweeping four straight and 15-1 against the Dodgers winning four straight.

If Sal Maglie pitches against Whitey Ford in the opener, it will be 6-5, pick 'em. If Clem Labine starts for Brooklyn, the Yanks will be favored at 6-5.

The Brooks will be 6-5 favorites if Maglie or Don Newcombe pitches the second game for the Dodgers against either Don Larsen or Johnny Kucks.

6 Horses Pile Up In Lebanon Event

LEBANON (AP)—The leading reinsman was injured at Lebanon Raceway Monday night in a six-horse pileup in the final race.

Marion Stephens, 37, of Columbus, who has won five of his 15 starts at this meeting, suffered a broken wrist in the accident.

A track spokesman said two horses, Protera and Lizzie, tangled early in the race and four following horses ran into them. The horses were not hurt seriously.

The favorite, Rebel Song, won the mile race with a 2:27 circuit. A 25-1 longshot, J. G. Mac, was the only other finisher.

Sal Maglie Is Dodgers' Biggest Hero

BROOKLYN (AP)—It is fairly certain that if the Brooklyn brass hadn't reached into the clouds and emerged with an angel, in the person of 39-year-old Salvatore Anthony Maglie, the Dodgers would not be the National League champions today.

For years, Maglie was the meanest and most hated member of the New York Giants, a genuine Dodger killer, the difference between the Dodgers winning and losing at least a couple of pennants. This year, Maglie was still mean and once again, he proved the difference between the Dodgers winning and losing.

Captain Peewee Reese voiced what was in the hearts and minds of all the Dodgers when he said: "I bless the day Maglie became one of us. We wouldn't have had a ghost of a chance without him."

Maglie the magnificent, Maglie the quiet old pro, merely shrugs off the praise of his teammates and his 13 victories, including a no-hitter, since he joined the Dodgers in mid-May, saying:

"I'm glad I helped but I knew all along I would if I were given the opportunity."

No matter how he fares in the fall classic, Maglie must be regarded as a baseball hero.

Only 14 months ago, the heavy-bearded barber of Niagara Falls was dismissed by the Giants as thoroughly washed-up.

As late as last May, after wearing out a spot on the Cleveland Indian bench, Sal was waived out of the American League.

Today this crafty pitcher, this sinister looking man who is said to have ice water in his veins, is the idol of millions of fans.

The U. S. Congress adjourned on Oct. 24, 1877 to watch a horse race at Pimlico where Parole, Eastern champion, beat Ten Broeck, Western champion, and Tom Ochiltree.

Yankees Favored To Defeat Bums

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees today were a solid 7½-5 choice to win the World Series from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bookmakers also quoted the odds as 10-1 against the Yanks sweeping four straight and 15-1 against the Dodgers winning four straight.

If Sal Maglie pitches against Whitey Ford in the opener, it will be 6-5, pick 'em. If Clem Labine starts for Brooklyn, the Yanks will be favored at 6-5.

The Brooks will be 6-5 favorites if Maglie or Don Newcombe pitches the second game for the Dodgers against either Don Larsen or Johnny Kucks.

6 Horses Pile Up In Lebanon Event

LEBANON (AP)—The leading reinsman was injured at Lebanon Raceway Monday night in a six-horse pileup in the final race.

Marion Stephens, 37, of Columbus, who has won five of his 15 starts at this meeting, suffered a broken wrist in the accident.

A track spokesman said two horses, Protera and Lizzie, tangled early in the race and four following horses ran into them. The horses were not hurt seriously.

The favorite, Rebel Song, won the mile race with a 2:27 circuit. A 25-1 longshot, J. G. Mac, was the only other finisher.

Beaumont Planning Memorial to Babe

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A memorial to Babe Didrikson Zaharias who died Thursday in Galveston is being planned in Beaumont, her hometown.

Her husband, George Zaharias, told Mayor Jimmie Cokinos Monday he will bring all of the Babe's trophies, pictures and mementoes to Beaumont if the city will provide a suitable place for them.

Cokinos said this would be done.

Sal Maglie Is Dodgers' Biggest Hero

BROOKLYN (AP)—It is fairly certain that if the Brooklyn brass hadn't reached into the clouds and emerged with an angel, in the person of 39-year-old Salvatore Anthony Maglie, the Dodgers would not be the National League champions today.

For years, Maglie was the meanest and most hated member of the New York Giants, a genuine Dodger killer, the difference between the Dodgers winning and losing at least a couple of pennants. This year, Maglie was still mean and once again, he proved the difference between the Dodgers winning and losing.

Captain Peewee Reese voiced what was in the hearts and minds of all the Dodgers when he said: "I bless the day Maglie became one of us. We wouldn't have had a ghost of a chance without him."

Maglie the magnificent, Maglie the quiet old pro, merely shrugs off the praise of his teammates and his 13 victories, including a no-hitter, since he joined the Dodgers in mid-May, saying:

"I'm glad I helped but I knew all along I would if I were given the opportunity."

No matter how he fares in the fall classic, Maglie must be regarded as a baseball hero.

Only 14 months ago, the heavy-bearded barber of Niagara Falls was dismissed by the Giants as thoroughly washed-up.

As late as last May, after wearing out a spot on the Cleveland Indian bench, Sal was waived out of the American League.

Today this crafty pitcher, this sinister looking man who is said to have ice water in his veins, is the idol of millions of fans.

The U. S. Congress adjourned on Oct. 24, 1877 to watch a horse race at Pimlico where Parole, Eastern champion, beat Ten Broeck, Western champion, and Tom Ochiltree.

Flatbush Ready To Play Host To '56 Series

New York Given Nod By Bookies, but Bums Drawing Support, Too

BROOKLYN (AP)—The well-rested New York Yankees ruled a stout 7½ to 5 choice to dethrone the champion Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1956 World Series which starts Wednesday at Ebbets Field but the National Leaguers had plenty of supporters, too.

Bobby Bragan, who gained stature as a manager even in Pittsburgh's three season-ending losses to Brooklyn, picked the Dodgers to win.

"All they have to do is play the kind of ball they played against us in those last three days," Bragan said, "those guys were simply great."

A major league umpire, who will remain unidentified even though he will not work in the series, thought the Dodgers would win "because they are keyed up right now and they have the momentum."

"I've been reading where the Dodgers are supposed to be tired," he said. "Tired of what? Winning? Capturing the pennant on the last day of the season, and the manner in which they did it, was the best pick-me-up they could have gotten."

Whitey Ford was certain to pitch for the Yankees in the opener but Manager Walter Alston was not expected to name the Brooklyn pitcher until after the workout today.

It was believed that Sal Maglie, Brooklyn's hottest pitcher in the stretch, will get the call. Alston wants Maglie to open things up and late Monday he had just about made up his mind to go with Sal but reserved judgment when the 39-year-old righthander complained of miseries in his shoulder.

"Maglie will pitch if his arm is all right," Alston said, "if not, it will be Clem Labine."

Maglie admitted he felt tired and also complained of a mild stomach disorder but said he would pitch if Alston wanted him to.

The former Dodger killer's 13-5 record for Brooklyn ranks him second only to Don Newcombe (27-7), who will hurl the second game for Brooklyn against New York's Don Larsen. Sal lost his only previous World Series start against the Yankees, failing to go beyond the fifth inning in the 1951 Yankee-Giant series.

Ford, who hasn't pitched since he failed in his bid for a 20th victory last Wednesday, will have a full week's rest. The southpaw ace appeared undaunted by the task confronting him in a park called a left-handed pitcher's graveyard. In Whitey's only series appearance there, in 1951, he was knocked out in the first inning.

"For a lefthander to win at Ebbets Field is a challenge," acknowledged Ford. "But I am anxious to prove I can do it."

Ford said he was surprised when his manager, Casey Stengel, sent him to Ebbets Field Sunday to give the Dodgers a look.

"I didn't learn anything I didn't already know," said Ford, who has two series triumphs over the Dodgers, both in Yankee Stadium.

"I still regard Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson as the two toughest hitters for me, but I still don't think the Dodgers are tougher to beat in Ebbets Field than the Red Sox are up in Fenway Park. And I have won there."

Stengel said he planned no lineup changes. Mickey Mantle, though still bothered by a pulled muscle in his left groin, is a certain starter in center field, as is Billy Martin at second base, despite a back ailment. Enos Slaughter has a bad toe but he will be in left field, Bill Skowron at first base, Andy Carey at third, Gil McDougald at shortstop, Hank Bauer in right field, and, of course Yogi Berra, behind the plate, complete the lineup.

Alston, who said Sunday he may play rookie Charlie Neal at second base, switching Junior Gilliam to left field in place of Sandy Amoros, was uncertain about such a move today.

"Right now I'm leaning the other way a bit and may go with Amoros," Alston said. "Sandy has been hot lately and he may continue that way no matter who is pitching."

Amoros never has started a game when a lefthander opposed the Dodgers this year. The lefthanded hitting little outfielder batted 11 times against southpaw relief pitchers, getting one hit, a triple.

If Amoros plays, the lineup will be: Junior Gilliam, 2b; Pee Wee Reese, ss; Duke Snider, cf; Jackie Robinson, 3b; Gil Hodges, 1b; Carl Furillo, rf; Amoros, lf; Roy Campanella, c; and the pitcher.

Films of the St. Charles game were shown to the Washington Lions Monday night at the Gardner Park Fieldhouse after an afternoon session on offense in preparation for this Friday's traditionally hard - fought game with Greenfield.

Defensive play in the Friday night game with St. Charles look flimsy on the films, but the boys showed up better than was superficially apparent on ofiense.

"Our center-of-the-line play was pretty strong on offense," said Head Coach Fred Domenico, who watched the films Sunday and on Monday night picked out the rough spots for the boys, replaying the film and grinding over the mistakes they made. He called on practically everyone about a "goof" before the session was over.

A short skull session, checking assignments, followed the film.

* * *

THE 300 YARDS in rushing the Lions had against St. Charles Friday was no accident.

"The ends weren't doing their job well," said the head coach, "but we were hitting pretty well in the middle. Of course the weight difference showed up, but that isn't always the thing that wins ball games. I think we looked better on offense Friday night than at any other time this season."

"Our offense looked good in Monday's practice, too. We'll have to work on it again," said the coach, "but I think it's improved some more. Of course no one is ever as perfect as they'd like to be, but we're working on it."

The coach has tried out some other ends and hopes to have something better worked out by the close of the week.

* * *

NOBODY'S expecting a pushover from Greenfield, and the boys are working as hard as ever.

"They had a lot of pep Monday," said Domenico.

The game with Greenfield, which is never won before it's been played, promises to be an exciting affair.

"The tempo of this game will be up over anything seen on that field this year. The Greenfield bunch will be 'up' for this one. We're expecting a tough ball game, and I think that's what we'll get. It'll be a matter of who makes the breaks fall on their side," Domenico said.

* * *

IN PREPARATION, the Lions will just be sharpening up what they've already got. Nothing new is on the offing. The coaches feel that if you can learn what you've got well, it doesn't make any difference whether your opposition knows what you're going to do or not.

The Greenfield team is touted by Domenico as "a scrappy bunch and well - coached."

Player for player, the weight balance is about the same.

Sooners Keep Top Ranking In Grid Poll

CHICAGO (AP)—With a string of 31 straight victories behind them and the end hardly in sight, Oklahoma's Sooners still are the nation's No. 1 college football team.

The nation's sports writers voted Oklahoma into the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll for the second week of the 1956 season. The Sooners also were the pre-season choice.

The seasonal debut of the Big Ten Conference teams, many rated high in the pre-season picks, had a distinct effect on this week's ratings. But Oklahoma, first on 60 of 97 ballots, still dominated. After whipping North Carolina 36-0 in the season opener, Oklahoma polled a total of 883 points on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second.

Michigan State, returning to its pre-season second rating on the strength of a 21-7 victory over Stanford, drew 17 first places and 773 points. Then came Georgia Tech, second a week ago, with 662 points. Tech has won two games, coming through a 9-7 squeaker against Southern Methodist last Saturday.

Others in the first ten, which included two new members and in an entirely different order since last week, were Ohio State, Michigan, Mississippi, Pittsburgh, Texas Christian, Tennessee and Southern Callfornia.

Busso Sparkles As Lightweight

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's east side, long the spawning grounds for outstanding lightweights, may have another top contender before long on young Johnny Busso.

An aggressive fighter and a crisp puncher with either hand, the 22-year-old Busso ran his latest victory streak to seven Monday night with a split decision over Cleveland's Tommy Salem in a televised 10-rounder.

Unbeaten in 17 months, the curly-haired New Yorker, a recent bridegroom, now has an imposing 28-3-1 record.

Redlegs To Burn Series Tickets

CINCINNATI (AP)—The last vestige of the Cincinnati Redlegs' hopes for a National League flag will go up in smoke in the next few days.

They are the 35,540 tickets to prospective World Series games at Crosley Field. Redleg officials will burn them as soon as internal revenue men check them.

Charles Morris, Redleg ticket manager, said that the chore of returning applications and checks or money orders for World Series tickets started Monday.

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Ford's library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing, so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine over-17-foot Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five over-16-foot Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

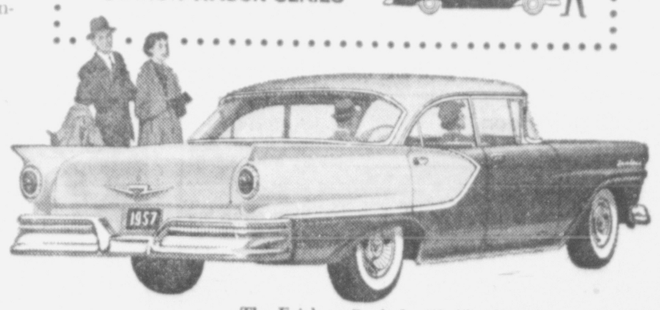

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

Flatbush Ready To Play Host To '56 Series

New York Given Nod By Bookies, but Bums Drawing Support, Too

BROOKLYN (AP)—The well-rested New York Yankees ruled a stout 7½ to 5 choice to dethrone the champion Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1956 World Series which starts Wednesday at Ebbets Field but the National Leaguers had plenty of supporters, too.

Bobby Bragan, who gained stature as a manager even in Pittsburgh's three season-ending losses to Brooklyn, picked the Dodgers to win.

"All they have to do is play the kind of ball they played against us in those last three days," Bragan said. "those guys were simply great."

A major league umpire, who will remain unidentified even though he will not work in the series, thought the Dodgers would win "because they are keyed up right now and they have the momentum."

"I've been reading where the Dodgers are supposed to be tired," he said. "Tired of what? Winning? Capturing the pennant on the last day of the season, and the manner in which they did it, was the best pick-me-up they could have gotten."

Whitey Ford was certain to pitch for the Yankees in the opener but Manager Walter Alston was not expected to name the Brooklyn pitcher until after the workout today.

It was believed that Sal Maglie, Brooklyn's hottest pitcher in the stretch, will get the call. Alston wants Maglie to open things up and late Monday he had just about made up his mind to go with Sal but reserved judgment when the 39-year-old righthander complained of miseries in his shoulder.

"Maglie will pitch if his arm is all right," Alston said. "if not, it will be Clem Labine."

Maglie admitted he felt tired and also complained of a mild stomach disorder but said he would pitch if Alston wanted him to.

The former Dodger killer's 13-5 record for Brooklyn ranks him second only to Don Newcombe (27-7), who will hurl the second game for Brooklyn against New York's Don Larsen. Sal lost his only previous World Series start against the Yankees, failing to go beyond the fifth inning in the 1951 Yankee-Giant series.

Ford, who hasn't pitched since he failed in his bid for a 20th victory last Wednesday, will have a full week's rest.The southpaw ace appeared undaunted by the task confronting him in a park called a left-handed pitcher's graveyard. In Whitey's only series appearance there, in 1951, he was knocked out in the first inning.

"For a lefthander to win at Ebbets Field is a challenge," acknowledged Ford. "But I am anxious to prove I can do it."

Ford said he was surprised when his manager, Casey Stengel, sent him to Ebbets Field Sunday to give the Dodgers a look.

"I didn't learn anything I didn't already know," said Ford, who has two series triumphs over the Dodgers, both in Yankee Stadium.

"I still regard Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson as the two toughest hitters for me, but I still don't think the Dodgers are tougher to beat in Ebbets Field than the Red Sox are up in Fenway Park. And I have won there."

Stengel said he planned no lineup changes. Mickey Mantle, though still bothered by a pulled muscle in his left groin, is a certain starter in center field, as is Billy Martin at second base, despite a back ailment. Enos Slaughter has a bad toe but he will be in left field, Bill Skowron at first base, Andy Carey at third, Gil McDougald at shortstop, Hank Bauer in right field, and, of course Yogi Berra, behind the plate, complete the lineup.

Alston, who said Sunday he may play rookie Charlie Neal at second base, switching Junior Gilliam to left field in place of Sandy Amoros, was uncertain about such a move today.

"Right now I'm leaning the other way a bit and may go with Amoros," Alston said. "Sandy has been hot lately and he may continue that way no matter who is pitching."

Amoros never has started a game when a lefthander opposed the Dodgers this year. The lefthanded hitting little outfielder batted 11 times against southpaw relief pitchers, getting one hit, a triple.

If Amoros plays, the lineup will be: Junior Gilliam, 2b; Pee Wee Reese, ss; Duke Snider, cf; Jackie Robinson, 3b; Gil Hodges, 1b; Carl Furillo, rf; Amoros, lf; Roy Campanella, c; and the pitcher.

Films of the St. Charles game were shown to the Washington Lions Monday night at the Gardner Park Fieldhouse after an afternoon session on offense in preparation for this Friday's traditionally hard - fought game with Greenfield.

Defensive play in the Friday night game with St. Charles look flimsy on the films, but the boys showed up better than was superficially apparent on offense.

"Our center-of-the-line play was pretty strong on offense," said Head Coach Fred Domenico, who watched the films Sunday and on Monday night picked out the rough spots for the boys, replaying the film and grinding over the mistakes they made. He called on practically everyone about a "goof" before the session was over.

A short skull session, checking assignments, followed the film.

* * *

THE 300 YARDS in rushing the Lions had against St. Charles Friday was no accident.

"The ends weren't doing their job well," said the head coach, 'but we were hitting pretty well in the middle. Of course the weight difference showed up, but that isn't always the thing that wins ball games. I think we looked better on offense Friday night than at any other time this season."

"Our offense looked good in Monday's practice, too. We'll have to work on it again," said the coach, "but I think it's improved some more. Of course no one is ever as perfect as they'd like to be, but we're working on it."

The coach has tried out some other ends and hopes to have something better worked out by the close of the week.

* * *

NOBODY'S expecting a pushover from Greenfield, and the boys are working as hard as ever.

"They had a lot of pep Monday," said Domenico.

The game with Greenfield, which is never won before it's been played, promises to be an exciting affair.

"The tempo of this game will be up over anything seen on that field this year. The Greenfield bunch will be 'up' for this one. We're expecting a tough ball game, and I think that's what we'll get. It'll be a matter of who makes the breaks fall on their side," Domenico said.

* * *

IN PREPARATION, the Lions will just be sharpening up what they've already got. Nothing new is on the offing. The coaches feel that if you can learn what you've got well, it doesn't make any difference whether your opposition knows what you're going to do or not.

The Greenfield team is touted by Domenico as "a scrappy bunch and well - coached."

Player for player, the weight balance is about the same.

Sooners Keep Top Ranking In Grid Poll

CHICAGO (AP)—With a string of 31 straight victories behind them and the end hardly in sight, Oklahoma's Sooners still are the nation's No. 1 college football team.

The nation's sports writers voted Oklahoma into the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll for the second week of the 1956 season. The Sooners also were the pre-season choice.

The seasonal debut of the Big Ten Conference teams, many rated high in the pre-season picks, had a distinct effect on this week's ratings. But Oklahoma, first on 60 of 97 ballots, still dominated. After whipping North Carolina 36-0 in the season opener, Oklahoma polled a total of 883 points on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for second.

Michigan State, returning to its pre-season second rating on the strength of a 21-7 victory over Stanford, drew 17 first places and 773 points. Then came Georgia Tech, second a week ago, with 662 points. Tech has won two games, coming through a 9-7 squeaker against Southern Methodist last Saturday.

Others in the first ten, which included two new members and in an entirely different order since last week, were Ohio State, Michigan, Mississippi, Pittsburgh, Texas Christian, Tennessee and Southern Callfornia.

Busso Sparkles As Lightweight

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's east side, long the spawning grounds for outstanding lightweights, may have another top contender before long on young Johnny Busso.

An aggressive fighter and a crisp puncher with either hand, the 22-year-old Busso ran his latest victory streak to seven Monday night with a split decision over Cleveland's Tommy Salem in a televised 10-rounder.

Unbeaten in 17 months, the curly-haired New Yorker, a recent bridegroom, now has an imposing 28-3-1 record.

Redlegs To Burn Series Tickets

CINCINNATI (AP)—The last vestige of the Cincinnati Redlegs' hopes for a National League flag will go up in smoke in the next few days.

They are the 35,540 tickets to prospective World Series games at Crosley Field. Redleg officials will burn them as soon as internal revenue men check them.

Charles Morris, Redleg ticket manager, said that the chore of returning applications and checks or money orders for World Series tickets started Monday.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Cincy Signs Hurler For Class B Club

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs have signed righthander William Basal as a pitcher with their Clovis, N. M., team in the class B Southwestern League.

He is 19 years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall and pitched at Elmira Free Academy and at Ithaca College. The announcement of the signing was made Monday.

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low . . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch . . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knockout named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts.

It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet . . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Ford's library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing, so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine over-17-foot Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five over-16-foot Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

So there's the new kind of Ford. Big! Gracious! Spacious! A luxury car true—but one that any new-car buyer can easily afford. Come in! See what wonder-cars you can buy now at low Ford prices.

IN TWO NEW SUPER SIZES

OVER 16 FT. LONG On a New 116" Wheelbase — 3 Custom Models — 2 Custom 300 Models

OVER 17 FT. LONG On a New 118" Wheelbase — 4 Fairlane Models — 5 Fairlane 500 Models

PLUS 5 NEW MODELS IN THE STATION WAGON SERIES

The Fairlane Fords for '57, like the Fairlane 500 models, have no equal . . . no counterpart, in the low-price field.

Big Boom in Public Building To Get Under Way in Spring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The big boom ever in construction of state public buildings is expected to get under way next spring.

Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, assistant director of the State Department of Mental Health, made that prediction today as he reviewed progress in preparing plans for nearly a score of new buildings for his department.

"We firmly believe that next spring we will be ready to break ground on the entire 1956 construction program," Dr. Albrecht said.

The projects add up to about 15 million dollars, the amount authorized by the State Legislature last Jan. 30. It wasn't until last March that the department was able to get architects started on plans for the buildings.

The department has outlined a 30-million-dollar building schedule for 1957 and 1958 and hopes to start work on some of the 1957 projects early next year.

Biggest project in the entire program is the $11,500,000 reformatory planned to house 1,500 inmates from southern Ohio at Lebanon.

It will be built in three phases. Plans for the $4,400,000 first phase are expected to be ready by Feb. 1 and Dr. Albrecht expects money will be available to begin work soon after that. Plans for the $3,200,000 second phase are expected to be finished by next May.

All the projects are subject to approval of the Division of Capital Planning and the Improvement, which already has approved all but two of the 1956 projects.

The status of some other projects in the 1956 program:

Final plans should be ready Nov. 1 for the 100-bed patient building at Apple Creek State Hospital, to cost $350,000, as well as for the 1-million-dollar center for mentally retarded patients at Apple Creek.

Estimates are that the plans for the $585,000 expansion of central facilities at Hawthornden State Hospital will be ready about Dec. 1.

Final plans will be completed Dec. 20 for the $750,000 reception and intensive therapy unit at Tiffin State Hospital. It will have 120 beds. That's the same date final plans should be ready for the $750,000 medical and surgical building at Gallipolis State Institute.

Final plans should be ready Nov. 1 for the $750,000 reception and intensive therapy unit at the Cambridge State Hospital.

Money for all the projects comes from a 150 million dollar bond issue for public buildings, with half the revenue set aside for mental hygiene department construction.

Grieving Dog Adopts Lion Cub

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A dog named Fuzzy joined the circus with the job of nursing a newborn lion.

Fuzzy was grieving over the loss of a puppy, and the cub was trying to escape being killed by its mother when police got the two together. They hit it off fine.

The cub's mother, Giner, belongs to a traveling wild animal show. She killed cubs she had once before, owner Eddie Kuhn said.

Lion cubs will not feed on a bottle, and the mothers rarely raise their young in a circus because of the nearby humans, Kuhn said. So Fuzzy will travel with the troupe, nursing the cub about 30 days.

Wall Chopped Up To Find Animal

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "We heard something moving around inside there and we stayed up until 1 a.m. just wondering and worrying about it."

Mrs. H. J. Corbett of suburban St. Ann's said that when the sound of a mysterious animal inside their bedroom wall continued Monday, she called the Humane Society.

Field officers decided the only way to locate the animal was to cut a hole. Mrs. Corbett agreed.

They sawed a good-sized hole in the wall but it scampered out of reach.

Four holes and 3½ hours later, a bedraggled squirrel was pulled out.

2 Big Paint Firms Tell of Price Hikes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Increases in prices were announced Monday by the Sherwin-Williams Co. and the Glidden Co., two of the world's largest paint makers.

A spokesman for Sherwin-Williams said the across-the-board increase to dealers averaged 3.7 per cent.

The Glidden Co. increased wholesale prices an average of 4½ per cent, effective last Saturday, with a recommended retail increase of "just under 5 per cent."

Men More Fragile Than Women, Claim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Men are more fragile than women, says Dr. Daniel Beltz.

A family physician, Dr. Beltz told an audience Monday: "The vital organs of men are more fragile than those of women, and 200,000 more men than women women have died annually in the United States in this decade."

The years between 45 and 60 are particularly dangerous for men, he said, whereas women find the going harder after 80.

Woman, 56, Killed On Hospital Ground

CINCINNATI (AP)—A truck Monday crushed to death Mrs. Alvinia Plust, 56, on the grounds of Christ Hospital where she worked.

Police said the truck driver, J. P. Farrar, 27, told them he was backing to a ramp at the rear of the hospital and after hearing a "bump" found the woman under the vehicle.

Sen. Douglas Says GOP Fails in Task

AKRON (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas told a Summit County Democratic rally here Monday night that the Eisenhower administration has not liberated any peoples from communism and has not "even contained communism as the Truman administration did after the fall of China."

The Illinois Democrat said the GOP's "main warcery was 'Korea, communism and corruption'" when the 1952 campaign was on.

"They did make peace in Korea in 1953," he said, "but instead of liberating that country as they had promised, they permitted the communists to hold the northern half and to fortify it heavily."

Popcorn Poll Shows Ike Leading Adlai

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Ike is leading Adlai in a presidential popcorn poll dreamed up by a Stockton movie theater.

Popcorn buyers in the lobby are invited to take their choice from 10-cent sacks marked either "I Like Ike" or "I Adore Adlai."

Manager Charles M. Pincus says the Republican president is leading his Democratic opponent by 5,842 to 2,301.

Burglar Allowed To Get Married

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—A convicted burglar, sentenced to 2 to 16 years in prison Monday, will be allowed to get married and take a nine-day honeymoon. Circuit Court Judge Bernard Decker, after sentencing James Pampinella, 24, of Chicago, learned that he had planned to be married Oct. 20 and invitations for the wedding had been sent out. Decker granted a stay of sentence and released Pampinella until Oct. 29 on $10,000 bond.

Cuyahoga Aide Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—John A. Zangerle, 90, who served as auditor of Cuyahoga County for 38 years, died here Monday following along illness. He retired in 1951.

Big Boom in Public Building To Get Under Way in Spring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The biggest boom ever in construction of state public buildings is expected to get under way next spring.

Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, assistant director of the State Department of Mental Health, made that prediction today as he reviewed progress in preparing plans for nearly a score of new buildings for his department.

"We firmly believe that next spring we will be ready to break ground on the entire 1956 construction program," Dr. Albrecht said.

The projects add up to about 15 million dollars, the amount authorized by the State Legislature last Jan. 30. It wasn't until last March that the department was able to get architects started on plans for the buildings.

The department has outlined a 30-million-dollar building schedule for 1957 and 1958 and hopes to start work on some of the 1957 projects early next year.

Biggest project in the entire program is the $11,500,000 reformatory planned to house 1,500 inmates from southern Ohio at Lebanon.

It will be built in three phases. Plans for the $4,400,000 first phase are expected to be ready by Feb. 1 and Dr. Albrecht expects money will be available to begin work soon after that. Plans for the $3,200,000 second phase are expected to be finished by next May.

All the projects are subject to approval of the Division of Capital Planning and the Improvement, which already has approved all but two of the 1956 projects.

The status of some other projects in the 1956 program:

Final plans should be ready Nov. 1 for the 100-bed patient building at Apple Creek State Hospital, to cost $350,000, as well as for the 1-million-dollar center for mentally retarded patients at Apple Creek.

Estimates are that the plans for the $585,000 expansion of central facilities at Hawthornden State Hospital will be ready about Dec. 1.

Final plans will be completed Dec. 20 for the $750,000 reception and intensive therapy unit at Tiffin State Hospital. It will have 120 beds. That's the same date final plans should be ready for the $750,000 medical and surgical building at Gallipolis State Institute.

Final plans should be ready Nov. 1 for the $750,000 reception and intensive therapy unit at the Cambridge State Hospital.

Money for all the projects comes from a 150 million dollar bond issue for public buildings, with half the revenue set aside for mental hygiene department construction.

Grieving Dog Adopts Lion Cub

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A dog named Fuzzy joined the circus with the job of nursing a newborn lion.

Fuzzy was grieving over the loss of a puppy, and the cub was trying to escape being killed by its mother when police got the two together. They hit it off fine.

The cub's mother, Giner, belongs to a traveling wild animal show. She killed cubs she had once before, owner Eddie Kuhn said.

Lion cubs will not feed on a bottle, and the mothers rarely raise their young in a circus because of the nearby humans, Kuhn said. So Fuzzy will travel with the troupe, nursing the cub about 30 days.

Wall Chopped Up To Find Animal

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "We heard something moving around inside there and we stayed up until 1 a.m. just wondering and worrying about it."

Mrs. H. J. Corbett of suburban St. Ann's said that when the sound of a mysterious animal inside their bedroom wall continued Monday, she called the Humane Society.

Field officers decided the only way to locate the animal was to cut a hole. Mrs. Corbett agreed.

They sawed a good-sized hole in the wall but it scampered out of reach.

Four holes and 3½ hours later, a bedraggled squirrel was pulled out.

2 Big Paint Firms Tell of Price Hikes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Increases in prices were announced Monday by the Sherwin-Williams Co. and the Glidden Co., two of the world's largest paint makers.

A spokesman for Sherwin-Williams said the across-the-board increase to dealers averaged 3.7 per cent.

The Glidden Co. increased wholesale prices an average of 4½ per cent, effective last Saturday, with a recommended retail increase of "just under 5 per cent."

Men More Fragile Than Women, Claim

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Men are more fragile than women, says Dr. Daniel Beltz.

A family physician, Dr. Beltz told an audience Monday: "The vital organs of men are more fragile than those of women, and 200,000 more men than women women have died annually in the United States in this decade."

The years between 45 and 60 are particularly dangerous for men, he said, whereas women find the going harder after 80.

Woman, 56, Killed On Hospital Ground

CINCINNATI (AP)—A truck Monday crushed to death Mrs. Alvinia Plust, 56, on the grounds of Christ Hospital where she worked.

Police said the truck driver, J. P. Farrar, 27, told them he was backing to a ramp at the rear of the hospital and after hearing a "bump" found the woman under the vehicle.

Sen. Douglas Says GOP Fails in Task

AKRON (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas told a Summit County Democratic rally here Monday night that the Eisenhower administration has not liberated any peoples from communism and has not "even contained communism as the Truman administration did after the fall of China."

The Illinois Democrat said the GOP's "main warcry was 'Korea, communism and corruption'" when the 1952 campaign was on.

"They did make peace in Korea in 1953," he said, "but instead of liberating that country as they had promised, they permitted the communists to hold the northern half and to fortify it heavily."

Popcorn Poll Shows Ike Leading Adlai

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Ike is leading Adlai in a presidential popcorn poll dreamed up by a Stockton movie theater.

Popcorn buyers in the lobby are invited to take their choice from 10-cent sacks marked either "I Like Ike" or "I Adore Adlai."

Manager Charles M. Pincus says the Republican president is leading his Democratic opponent by 5,842 to 2,301.

Burglar Allowed To Get Married

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—A convicted burglar, sentenced to 2 to 10 years in prison Monday, will be allowed to get married and take a nine-day honeymoon. Circuit Court Judge Bernard Decker, after sentencing James Pampinella, 24, of Chicago, learned that he had planned to be married Oct. 20 and invitations for the wedding had been sent out. Decker granted a stay of sentence and released Pampinella until Oct. 29 on $10,000 bond.

Federal Government Is Seen Aiding Steel Plant Expansion

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for expansion in the steel industry may be speeded up by the federal govre-opening of steel expansion goals, "Steel" magazine said today.

The trade weekly said fast tax amortization requests for an estimated $1,300,000,000 worth of expansion had been filed by steel manufacturers with the Office of Defense Mobilization last week. This compared with a total of $858,800,000 two weeks previously.

It pointed out that fast tax amortization "would permit steelmakers to depreciate new facilities in five years, not the 20 or so normally allowed."

"This way," the publication added, "tax payments are reduced during the early part of a facility's life."

Declaring that the Suez situation may affect the government's decision on re-opening the goals, the magazine said:

"If the United States is forced to move oil around the southern tip of Africa, there will be a pinch on tankers and pipeline capacity. Tightness in plate, structurals and pipe (supply) would be confirmed."

Steel production is now at capacity, the metalworking weekly said, but it pointed out that the output is going to meet current needs and that users are not hoarding steel.

Nationwide steel production last week was at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity, or 2,474,202 net tons. Output during the preceding week was at 100 per cent.

"Steel's" price composite on finished steel was unchanged at $137.75 a net ton. The composite on steelmaking scrap dropped $1.50 to $58.17 a gross ton.

Federal Government Is Seen Aiding Steel Plant Expansion

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for expansion in the steel industry may be speeded up by the federal govre-opening of steel expansion goals, "Steel" magazine said today.

The trade weekly said fast tax amortization requests for an estimated $1,300,000,000 worth of expansion had been filed by steel manufacturers with the Office of Defense Mobilization last week. This compared with a total of $858,800,000 two weeks previously.

It pointed out that fast tax amortization "would permit steelmakers to depreciate new facilities in five years, not the 20 or so normally allowed."

"This way," the publication added, "tax payments are reduced during the early part of a facility's life."

Declaring that the Suez situation may affect the government's decision on re-opening the goals, the magazine said:

"If the United States is forced to move oil around the southern tip of Africa, there will be a pinch on tankers and pipeline capacity. Tightness in plate, structurals and pipe (supply) would be confirmed."

Steel production is now at capacity, the metalworking weekly said, but it pointed out that the output is going to meet current needs and that users are not hoarding steel.

Nationwide steel production last week was at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity, or 2,474,202 net tons. Output during the preceding week was at 100 per cent.

"Steel's" price composite on finished steel was unchanged at $137.75 a net ton. The composite on steelmaking scrap dropped $1.50 to $58.17 a gross ton.

Miami Trace Bond Issue Workers Given Briefing

Issues involved in Miami Trace District's $1,652,500 bond issue proposal were outlined to approximately 125 residents of the district at a meeting held Monday night in Wilson School.

Principal speaker at the session was R. M. Garrison, Columbus, director of the Division of Elementary and Secondary Education, Ohio Department of Education, who previously has appeared before the Miami Trace board in an advisory capacity.

Taylor Groff, president of the district board, acted as master of ceremonies at the meeting, an invitational affair designed to inform a cadre of workers who will act as emissaries in support of the bond issue.

Garrison outlined the increasing demand for better education facilities throughout Ohio and told the group that a survey now being conducted on the state level is seeking a better basis for equalizing educational opportunities in rural and city areas.

* * *

POINTING OUT that consolidations have proved an answer to a lag in rural education opportunities, Garrison commended the steps taken to meet Fayette County's problems and termed creation of the Miami Trace District "one of the most progressive steps taken in Ohio".

Speaking of the necessity of a sound tax base as a prerequisite to the success of any consolidation, Garrison said: "Miami Trace has a magnificent tax base (the figure which has been used is $39,235,457), and you have placed yourself in a position where, if you consummate your present plans, you will have an educational system on a par with any in Ohio."

Garrison said the Miami Trace enrollment (2,868 students) is sufficient to offer a broad educational program and attract competent teachers into a system geared for stability.

"County units are in a position to provide educational facilities never offered before", Garrison told the audience, adding that, since the county unit has been strengthened under existing school laws, "you stand in an excellent position to get what you want with your tax base and your enrollment.

The speaker pointed out that consolidations, which he termed a "pooling of resources", have in many cases met with violent resistance, "many times from outside the district actually involved". Adding that he was speaking from personal observation and not in an official capacity, Garrison said that the opposition is sometimes prompted by "jealousy" on the part of districts in a less favorable financial position.

* * *

KENNETH BUSH, former member of the Miami Trace board and chairman of the district's fact-finding committee, asked Garrison to comment on the value of an outside survey of city - county school matters at this time. Garrison replied that it was his personal view that "No survey would help your situation; there is no such thing as an impartial survey, and no one could satisfy everybody."

Garrison observed that even in a Bureau of Educational Research survey those who are dissatisfied with the findings may charge partiality.

The time for a survey was before a start was made on consolidation, Garrison commented. "You have cast your die—and you have a new district."

In answer to other questions from board members and the audience, Garrison said that high schools in the 500-to-1,000 enrollment bracket seemed to offer the best in educational opportunity, and he declared that Miami Trace was following accepted - practice when it lumped its school finance needs in a single bond issue proposal.

* * *

THE PROPOSAL, which will be submitted to district voters in November, breaks the requested $1,652,500 into the following requirements: $12,500 for the acquisition of real estate for the proposed new high school (at Eber); $1,275,000 for construction of a modern, fireproof high school building; $275,000 for furniture and furnishings for the high school, and $90,000 for the improvement of other existing buildings.

Herbert Perrill, member of the Miami Trace board, explained in detail the information contained in campaign material which was distributed at the meeting, adding that the alternative to passage of the bond issue is eventual consolidation with one or several other districts.

He said that the cost of the bond issue would be an average of 2.58 mills or $2.58 for each $1,000 of taxable property, and that the proposed building has been planned to accommodate a maximum of 900 students with a probable 1958-59 enrollment of 725 students.

The proposed bond issue would add the average 2.58 mills to the present 10-mill Miami Trace operational levy, making a total of 12.58 mills for all school purposes, Perrill explained. Existing indebtedness of Miami Trace District is $300,500, and Perrill said that in the fiscal year starting Jan. 1, 1958, approximately one-half mill would be sufficient to retire present indebtedness which would make approximately 13.08 after Jan. 1 of that year.

Others who spoke briefly at the meeting were Board Member Richard Snyder and Walter W. Boyer, Miami Trace superintendent.

City Bond Issue, Levy Drive Launched by PTA

A campaign to support the $645,000 bond issue and 2.5 mill operating levy for the Washington C. H. schools was put in gear by the Parent-Teacher Assn. at a meeting in the high school auditorium Monday night.

Most of the facts and figures relating to the two proposals already were pretty well known by most of those at the meeting, which was held primarily to outline a plan for getting them to the voters between now and Nov. 6 when the voters will make their decision at the polls.

If everything goes according to plan, the campaign will be conducted by the PTA on a house-to-house basis. Each PTA group is to cover its school district. At least one of them has its plan of action set up; the other four gathered in groups at the close of the meeting either to lay the groundwork for theirs or to set a time and place to meet to outline detailed plans.

A sheet of instructions to the campaigners, three leaflets giving facts and figures and a booklet with artist's drawings of the proposed two new buildings and two additions were given to the PTA group presidents for distribution during the house-to-house canvass. They were issued by the PTA Council, of which George Inskeep is president.

* * *

FACE OF THESE was explained by Supt. W. A. Smith to the campaigners.

Both he and Robert Terhune, president of the school board, who spoke for the other members, told the campaigners their responsibility is to get these sheets and booklets to every home in the city and to answer questions. They emphasized that the campaigners were not to argue for the proposals; rather that they were to "give the facts and answer questions." They said they felt certain "all the facts and figures are there and that the people can make their own decisions from them."

The importance of seeing every family— of calling personally at every home— was stressed.

Three major stumbling blocks were seen in the path of the bond issue and levy: 1. Apathy on the part of the people; 2. A tendency to link the city and Miami Trace building proposals with an attitude of "kill them both; 3. Resistance to any tax increase.

The facts and figures given in the leaflets and in the booklet, it was said, are designed to overcome all three.

* * *

TWO THINGS were underscored: 1. The building program is to provide elementary classrooms for the increasing enrollment in the city schools and 2. It is in no way related to Miami Trace building program proposal.

The building program includes:

A new 15-classroom building at Elm and Willard Sts. to replace the present 8-classroom building at Eastside;

Site for the new Eastside building;

A new 8-classroom building in Belle Aire to relieve some of the congestion growing Sunnyside (site to be given without cost by G. D. Baker);

Two-classroom addition to the Cherry Hill School;

Two - classroom addition to the Rose Avenue School;

New boilers to replace the old ones in the high school.

* * *

IT WAS brought out that if the cost of these five projects (including the equipment and fees) is less than the $645,000 asked in the bond issue, only enough bonds to cover the actual cost will be issued.

The 2.5 - mill levy is asked to cover general operating expenses, which include raises in teacher and employe salaries put into effect Sept. 1. Smith said the pay raises were necessary to attract good teachers.

In this connection, it was pointed out that the average teacher salary here is $3,992 as compared with a state average of $4,673.

It also was noted that the increase in enrollment necessitated more classrooms and more teachers.

* * *

THE NEW BUILDINGS are needed to provide more classrooms for pupils in the first six grades, the campaigners were told. These figures were cited: in 1940 there were 925 children in the six-grade elementary schools and today there are 1,260. No additional facilities have been provided for the 335 more pupils, it was pointed out. And, it was estimated that the enrollment would reach 1,426 (school census) in four more years.

This year, approximately 150 children are going to school in what are described as emergency classrooms— two in Grace Church ($2,250 a year rent), three in the high school, one in Sunnyside School and one in Rose Avenue School.

With increasing enrollment in the high school expected to reach 1,085 in four years (more than when tuition students were there), the three emergency classrooms there will be needed for high school students, it was said.

The new building program has been stripped down to the essentials— classrooms— it was noted. It does not include gymnasiums, cafeterias, auditoriums and general purpose rooms, although provision has been made to put folding partitions between two rooms in the new buildings (and additions) so they can be thrown together for larger meetings when needed.

* * *

A CHART was provided to show the cost of the building program in tax increases. Although the rate cannot be set definitely until after the bonds are sold, County Auditor Harry Allen was quoted as estimating it would take 2.18 mills to pay off the bonds over a 23-year period. On the average home, it was estimated, the tax would amount to $7.63 a year, a total of $175.49 in 23 years. These figures were given, it was explained, for the benefit of tenants who might fear a big increase in rent.

Figures on the school costs in four nearby cities were given to show the tax rate in Washington C. H. is the lowest. They are: Wilmington 15.70 mills; Circleville 15.70 mills; Greenfield 15.40 mills; Hillsboro 16.90 mills and Washington C. H. 12.90 mils. Terhune said at least three, and perhaps all four, are to vote on increases at the coming election.

Miami Trace Bond Issue Workers Given Briefing

Issues involved in Miami Trace District's $1,652,500 bond issue proposal were outlined to approximately 125 residents of the district at a meeting held Monday night in Wilson School.

Principal speaker at the session was R. M. Garrison, Columbus, director of the Division of Elementary and Secondary Education, Ohio Department of Education, who previously has appeared before the Miami Trace board in an advisory capacity.

Taylor Groff, president of the district board, acted as master of ceremonies at the meeting, an invitational affair designed to inform a cadre of workers who will act as emissaries in support of the bond issue.

Garrison outlined the increasing demand for better education facilities throughout Ohio and told the group that a survey now being conducted on the state level is seeking a better basis for equalizing educational opportunities in rural and city areas.

• • •

POINTING OUT that consolidations have proved an answer to a lag in rural education opportunities, Garrison commended the steps taken to meet Fayette County's problems and termed creation of the Miami Trace District "one of the most progressive steps taken in Ohio".

Speaking of the necessity of a sound tax base as a prerequisite to the success of any consolidation, Garrison said: "Miami Trace has a magnificent tax base (the figure which has been used is $39,235,457), and you have placed yourself in a position where, if you consummate your present plans, you will have an educational system on a par with any in Ohio."

Garrison said the Miami Trace enrollment (2,868 students) is sufficient to offer a broad educational program and attract competent teachers into a system geared for stability.

"County units are in a position to provide educational facilities never offered before", Garrison told the audience, adding that, since the county unit has been strengthened under existing school laws, "you stand in an excellent position to get what you want with your tax base and your enrollment.

The speaker pointed out that consolidations, which he termed a "pooling of resources", have in many cases met with violent resistance, "many times from outside the district actually involved". Adding that he was speaking from personal observation and not in an official capacity, Garrison said that the opposition is sometimes prompted by "jealousy" on the part of districts in a less favorable financial position.

• • •

KENNETH BUSH, former member of the Miami Trace board and chairman of the district's fact-finding committee, asked Garrison to comment on the value of an outside survey of city - county school matters at this time. Garrison replied that it was his personal view that "No survey would help your situation; there is no such thing as an impartial survey, and no one could satisfy everybody."

Garrison observed that even in a Bureau of Educational Research survey those who are dissatisfied with the findings may charge partiality.

The time for a survey was before a start was made on consolidation, Garrison commented. "You have cast your die—and you have a new district."

In answer to other questions from board members and the audience, Garrison said that high schools in the 500-to-1,000 enrollment bracket seemed to offer the best in educational opportunity, and he declared that Miami Trace was following accepted - practice when it lumped its school finance needs in a single bond issue proposal.

• • •

THE PROPOSAL, which will be submitted to district voters in November, breaks the requested $1,652,500 into the following requirements: $12,500 for the acquisition of real estate for the proposed new high school (at Eber); $1,275,000 for construction of a modern, fireproof high school building; $275,000 for furniture and furnishings for the high school, and $90,000 for the improvement of other existing buildings.

Herbert Perrill, member of the Miami Trace board, explained in detail the information contained in campaign material which was distributed at the meeting, adding that the alternative to passage of the bond issue is eventual consolidation with one or several other districts.

He said that the cost of the bond issue would be an average of 2.58 mills or $2.58 for each $1,000 of taxable property, and that the proposed building has been planned to accommodate a maximum of 900 students with a probable 1958-59 enrollment of 725 students.

The proposed bond issue would add the average 2.58 mills to the present 10-mill Miami Trace operational levy, making a total of 12.58 mills for all school purposes, Perrill explained. Existing indebtedness of Miami Trace District is $300,500, and Perrill said that in the fiscal year starting Jan. 1, 1958, approximately one-half mill would be sufficient to retire present indebtedness which would make approximately 13.08 after Jan. 1 of that year.

Others who spoke briefly at the meeting were Board Member Richard Snyder and Walter W. Boyer, Miami Trace superintendent.

City Bond Issue, Levy Drive Launched by PTA

A campaign to support the $645,000 bond issue and 2.5 mill operating levy for the Washington C. H. schools was put in gear by the Parent-Teacher Assn. at a meeting in the high school auditorium Monday night.

Most of the facts and figures relating to the two proposals already were pretty well known by most of those at the meeting, which was held primarily to outline a plan for getting them to the voters between now and Nov. 6 when the voters will make their decision at the polls.

If everything goes according to plan, the campaign will be conducted by the PTA on a house-to-house basis. Each PTA group is to cover its school district. At least one of them has its plan of action set up; the other four gathered in groups at the close of the meeting either to lay the groundwork for theirs or to set a time and place to meet to outline detailed plans.

A sheet of instructions to the campaigners, thre leaflets giving facts and figures and a booklet with artist's drawings of the proposed two new buildings and two additions were given to the PTA group presidents for distribution during the house-to-house canvass. They were issued by the PTA Council, of which George Inskeep is president.

• • •

EACE OF THESE was explained by Supt. W. A. Smith to the campaigners.

Both he and Robert Terhune, president of the school board, who spoke for the other members, told the campaigners their responsibility is to get these sheets and booklets to every home in the city and to answer questions. They emphasized that the campaigners were not to argue for the proposals; rather that they were to "give the facts and answer questions." They said they felt certain "all the facts and figures are there and that the people can make their own decisions from them."

The importance of seeing every family— of calling personally at every home— was stressed.

Three major stumbling blocks were seen in the path of the bond issue and levy: 1. Apathy on the part of the people; 2. A tendency to link the city and Miami Trace building proposals with an attitude of "kill them both; 3. Resistance to any tax increase.

The facts and figures given in the leaflets and in the booklet, it was said, are designed to overcome all three.

• • •

TWO THINGS were underscored: 1. The building program is to provide elementary classrooms for the increasing enrollment in the city schools and 2. It is in no way related to Miami Trace building program proposal.

The building program includes:

A new 15-classroom building at Elm and Willard Sts. to replace the present 8-classroom building at Eastside;

Site for the new Eastside building;

A new 8-classroom building in Belle Aire to relieve some of the congestion growing Sunnyside (site to be given without cost by G. D. Baker);

Two-classroom addition to the Cherry Hill School;

Two - classroom addition to the Rose Avenue School;

New boilers to replace the old ones in the high school.

• • •

IT WAS brought out that if the cost of these five projects (including the equipment and fees) is less than the $645,000 asked in the bond issue, only enough bonds to cover the actual cost will be issued.

The 2.5 - mill levy is asked to cover general operating expenses, which include raises in teacher and employe salaries put into effect Sept. 1. Smith said the pay raises were necessary to attract good teachers.

In this connection, it was pointed out that the average teacher salary here is $3,992 as compared with a state average of $4,673.

It also was noted that the increase in enrollment necessitated more classrooms and more teachers.

• • •

THE NEW BUILDINGS are needed to provide more classrooms for pupils in the first six grades, the campaigners were told. These figures were cited: in 1940 there were 925 children in the six-grade elementary schools and today there are 1,260. No additional facilities have been provided for the 335 more pupils, it was pointed out. And, it was estimated that the enrollment would reach 1,426 (school census) in four more years.

This year, approximately 150 children are going to school in what are described as emergency classrooms— two in Grace Church ($2,250 a year rent), three in the high school, one in Sunnyside School and one in Rose Avenue School.

With increasing enrollment in the high school expected to reach 1,085 in four years (more than when tuition students were there), the three emergency classrooms there will be needed for high school students, it was said.

The new building program has been stripped down to the essentials— classrooms— it was noted. It does not include gymnasiums, cafeterias, auditoriums and general purpose rooms, although provision has been made to put folding partitions between two rooms in the new buildings (and additions) so they can be thrown together for larger meetings when needed.

• • •

A CHART was provided to show the cost of the building program in tax increases. Although the rate cannot be set definitely until after the bonds are sold, County Auditor Harry Allen was quoted as estimating it would take 2.18 mills to pay off the bonds over a 23-year period. On the average home, it was estimated, the tax would amount to $7.63 a year, a total of $175.49 in 23 years. These figures were given, it was explained, for the benefit of tenants who might fear a big increase in rent.

Figures on the school costs in four nearby cities were given to show the tax rate in Washington C. H. is the lowest. They are: Wilmington 15.70 mills; Circleville 15.70 mills; Greenfield 15.40 mills; Hillsboro 16.90 mills and Washington C. H. 12.90 mils. Terhune said at least three, and perhaps all four, are to vote on increases at the coming election.
